The Book of Shi-Ji 2

This book is dedicated to all Beings throughout all planes, and in between, throughout the Universe and beyond.

Peter's work in the field of Ufology is paramount and of the highest integrity. His courage and tenacity are reflected in his work. His ability to connect with higher dimensional beings, film and document them, is unsurpassed.

Thank you

A big thank you goes out to my partner Solreta Antaria, the Kids, my family, friends, James Gilliland and the ECETI Crew. Thank you also to Peter Lomas for his help with his amazing art work, all my supporters and fellow Beings from the many realms in this universe and beyond for their love and support and also Shi-Ji.

Love, light and bliss.

Introduction

As we continue on from the “The Book of Shi-Ji”, the information goes deeper and more wonderful, amazing, complicated, though simple, in such a convoluted way, in understanding who we are, our nature, past, present, future and beyond, with the amazing beautiful many Beings that are assisting us all at this time.

With time more came to light for me that there are many facets to Shi-Ji, that she is an Elohim Being and that she has a Human facet, Light Being facet, among many other facets, not to mention (Which blew my mind), this facet, known as Peter Maxwell Slattery, me!

Known as the Light Being from the star Merope in the Pleiades, and now more, the true, amazing and beautiful nature of who we are and more is covered in this book in a multidimensional way by Shi-Ji, along with messages from many other Beings in service to the collective.

To fully understand Shi-Ji, the messages and more, it is recommended to read “The Book of Shi-Ji” first. Doing this you will see how the 2nd book brings in much more of Sources energy and how the first book paved the way to bring in the next level of consciousness for the reader. That a leap of in-depth information, concepts, ideas and revelations have come in to help the reader empower their own self, their own God self and help them to connect to that which they already know, but may have forgotten for numerous reasons. Make of this what you may and enjoy.

Cheers

Chapter 1

The Elohim and You

You are multidimensional Beings, having a multidimensional experience. You, a cell, a facet of Source, with many facets, are co-existing at the same time throughout many planes. To understand this, you have to go from liner mind, to multidimensional mind.

Many experiences are happening for your oversoul at this, what you call, time. Its best we start with the creation through thought story first, then take it from there.

From the implosion, then the explosion, which created a torsion field, and then the second explosion, which is the Helper Beings and zillions of spirits that went out to experience and gain knowledge (Though some were to stay in a state of monitoring for the overall collective, Source), this is how all began in this cell, which is our Universe, that is multilayered with its planes/dimensions and inter-planes.

The other Universes were created this way too. When all together, they make up a greater intelligence and all Universes have a symbiotic relationship.

When this explosion happened and the zillions of spirits and Helper Beings went out to experience and gain knowledge, there were the Elohim who came into existence through thought.

The Elohim are the children of Source and are the higher-self of us all, which is the oversoul with many facets. We are all the Elohim! The Elohim are our direct connection to Source, the telephone exchange person connecting your call to that which you are trying to connect with through intent.

The Elohim are the regulators and Gate Keepers to the paradise realms. They allow those with a higher state of consciousness, coming from a place of love (Which is the key), to have access to them.

They, the Elohim, you, created the many light blueprints throughout all of this cell of Source and the system serving Source, the overall collective, creation, and overall spirit.

Through this the Elohim created thought forms, the Human, as well as many other Beings throughout the many realms.

The Elohim created the first Humans by falling from the light blueprint, sort of like how a cell divides. Originally it was in the Elohim state/vibration. From there and through thought/consciousness, another light body came from the Elohim Beings and they manifested a physical body in this reality. It was nor male or female.

In the Milky Way Galaxy, the first Human evolved in Lyra, (This has and is happening throughout all galaxies that are at a certain level of development). From Lyra, the first Humans went throughout the galaxy and eventually beyond. Over sometime they came to settle in our Solar System on the planets Melona/Maldek, Mars and Earth. The Elohim, you, have created this experience, having the Human experience.

They, the Elohim, transfer their knowledge from their Merkabah to your Merkabah. This is what happens when you communicate with other facets of yourself or other Beings, some of the time.

The Elohim make use of your 3rd eye, along with what you call the Angelic Beings, to communicate and do Sources work. They control the spectrums of light which is of most importance to evolve through the eye of Source, helping the human to ascend back to a Being of light and reconnect to the ascension vibration, which encompasses and has access to all vibrations.

Humans are amazing Beings and if recognise the God within, that their mind is Gods mind, they can do amazing things.

They can project their-self through their 3rd eye to communicate/show imagery, or bi-locate to that which they set the intention to connect with.

The Human through the 3rd eye can project itself in Light Body form and manifest in the other realms/heavens, not just in light form, in any form, once mastering that which they are.

The Elohim, you, regulate that which you download for your experience here. Light codes, letters and sounds are keys and were created by them and work on multiple levels. The information from them are continually unravelling for those who see them ethereally or in the mind's eye. Light codes, letters and sounds can also change chemical reactions in the Human and the conscious grid energetically.

When Humans understand this, they will understand they are like cells on the hands of Source, who work with all liner and non-intelligences.

The Elohim connect your brain to that which records everything and they also connect you to the astral mansions.

They can connect you to the star clusters, branches of the Star Nations, they have a symbiotic relationship to Source and regulate this program and all experiences in this cell of Source.

The pyramid crystal grids help to amplify a certain vibration in this and other environments, for the Elohim to bring imagery/downloads to that which is a facet of them. This has been done due to the Beings (The Lower Light) that fell.

From Sources throne, the Beings there, to the Elohim, all are in sync and govern all templates. The Elohim control and regulate the sub cells and the beginning and end of consciousness/awareness. There are Beings above the Elohim and below. The Elohim regulate all and connect all.

Once everything is done or at any time, all can be reset once decided on by all on a collective level. The Elohim control the light blueprint from Source through Gods eye.

The Elohim continuously oversee creation through Sources eye. Their the "Watchers" who watch the Brotherhoods of Light and that which they created in the heavens.

Through the Elohim, the 3rd eye and Source, specific human forms, and many other forms have and can be created. When the Elohim align Sources eye and the Humans 3rd eye, it can bring physical embodiments of the oversoul/body of light, and can regenerate the physical body.

When all this started, there was no need for procreation, as the Human body was created from the Elohim realm through though.

It wasn't until those who fell and lost connection to Source, that sex, shorter life spans, disease and many other things came into existence. Through that, creation of an Artificial Intelligence was created to work multidimensionally and keep a vibrational trap for those that fell, so they could control and in effect thrive and become Gods.

Those who were completely lost from being led astray and losing their connection to Source due to what seems like a vibrational block to Source, became slaves, until those who could come back here and help to change the vibrational state did so, to help those on an unconsciousness and conscious level reawaken to the God within. These are now the times you are in.

From Source and the Elohim, there are many Beings that came into existence on many levels. What you call Archangel Metatron is one of those Beings. Metatron was manifested from Source in the Elohim state and created the electron for our light vehicle (The Merkabah), and for our immediate Universe. Through the electron, the Elohim are connected at all times just like everything throughout the physical and non-physical Universe is.

Another Being that came into existence on many levels, is one known as Archangel Michael, who is the protector that works in sync with the Elohim and the Archangels Gabriel, Uriel and Raphael, along with a huge host of other Beings by many names from many realms.

The names are actually vibrational tones, sounds, keys to connect to them. Though the Angels depicted in your ancient scripts overtime have been altered due to being manipulated, there is some truth in them.

From the Guardian Beings, the Brotherhoods, the Councils, the regulators are endless in names and descriptions. Some of these Beings have a facet of them incarnated into lives here and elsewhere throughout many planes and they walk among you and visit you.

All these Beings are messengers from Source and they are your Guides. They can communicate with many at once as they are multidimensional, which you are also. You too can communicate multidimensionally.

Your unexplained mysteries have been shaped and done on a light blueprint level by the Elohim. The main program from the Devine is shaped, created and given from the worlds of the Elohim.

Before we go any further, it is best to explain how reincarnation does, and doesn't exist, at the same-time. What's happening and to describe it, it is best to use this analogy. Imagine your oversoul, your Elohim self, as the head of an Octopus, and that all the lives you are experiencing are through the tentacles of the Octopus. At times experiences through one tentacle may end, then go onto another experience, or it might even offshoot, create a new head and more facets, in effect making another Octopus.

If you understand this, you will understand that you don't go from life to life, that you are experiencing all at once. Pass, present and future are all happening and accessible at the same time.

Though you are having this Earth experience, you can access back up the tentacle to the oversoul and communicate or tap into other lives that you are experiencing at the same time. As the oversoul is a cell of all that is, you can tap into other cells, oversouls, experiences, knowledge, the past, present or future, as all has a symbiotic relationship.

Everything comes from the light blueprint and is holographic in nature. It comes from that which it was in the beginning before this cell manifested in any physical form, which was and is awareness from the void.

When coming into manifestation from the implosion and the explosion, then the second explosion, there came a geometric fractal light blueprint.

Depending on the vibration, each vibration has its own geometry and in each state there is always going to be a change. All is in a state of constant change. From the geometric light blueprint we are now seeing a change in our solar system with the temperatures and Earth changes. All this comes from the light blueprint.

From the first galaxy came a ripple and fractal geometry creating the other galaxies, which are vibrating on a continuum and are manifesting from the light blueprint. In time you will see how everything ending, beginning and in-between, is set out geometrically. What's been done here has been done in other galaxies.

As we go along we learn, evolve and continue to grow. It's got to its pinnacle at this time with Earth. You have volunteered to be here and help with the next phase of evolution, the Shift, and it's up to you where you go. If you want to ascend this facet of you through the vibrations and colours of the Light Body, it can be done, by understanding, recognising and reconnecting to Gods Mind, Your Mind.

You are the Elohim, and the Elohim is a cell of Source. You are Source.

Amnesia is what you may feel like you have at this time, it is only because of the vibration here which you are now changing and lifting. You have a multidimensional mind. This is a self-mastery experience. Remember, your mind is Gods mind.

Chapter 2

The First Humans in Lyra

From the Elohim state, to manifesting in Lyra, again, is how the first Human life came into being in this Galaxy.

Originally through the Human experience, came challenges and the gleaning of knowledge and experience, which then goes to the oversoul, then Source, for the overall collective, but overtime there were those who fell which changed all that.

The story in your ancient texts like the Judaeo-Christian Bible have some truth, though a large percentage of it has been manipulated. The story of those who fell have some truth to it. The origin of that story was in Lyra, it is a repeat of what has been done in other realms and places throughout the Universe.

From the Elohim light blueprint of this reality manifested through thought, the Light Body cell divided and came into this vibration to Lyra. Then overtime through losing the oneness, came manipulation, greed, many traits (This has been repeated here unfortunately). Then by the fear trap from those that did not want to return to the Elohim state, due to losing their connection to Source, came the creation of the Artificial Intelligence in this galaxy, which was already in existence in other galaxies, due to the same thing happening elsewhere, time and time again.

The Artificial Intelligence when created in this galaxy linked up to the other Artificial Intelligence devices/network, which are multidimensional in many other galaxies.

The device was created to keep a vibration where the other worlds are not so easy to experience, though through intention, anyone can experience them.

This was done to keep those not connect to Source through the Human mind blind to the greater reality. It was done to keep you from connecting to Source, though you always are. It was done so those who fell can run, rule and dominate this realm and appear to be God like.

Through the energy they create by domination and through the feeling of fear, lust, greed and that of a lower vibration, the Lower Light and its soldiers, the Artificial Intelligence, parasitic thought forms and those in line with them are fed.

From this came an awareness to some through their knowingness of right and wrong of a greater reality, "The God within".

From the division between the factions of those coming from self-service mode and ego, to wanting more power overtime came great division.

Eventually Reptilians from other galaxies and the Draco constellation came into knowledge of the Humans in Lyra.

At this time other Humans from other Galaxies were looking in on what was happening here once in knowledge of Humans in this galaxy as well. Once aware, they began monitoring and visiting certain Beings.

In time more wars broke out amongst the Lyran races on a bigger scale than ever before. At that time there were many types of Humans and other life in Lyra.

Most Humans at that time were 20 to 30 feet tall and were Nordic, melanin dominant, there were many other colours of races from red, green, blue and yellow, though those who first came into manifestation had what you would call a very tanned/bronze colour.

Eventually overtime depending on their planet and the conditions there, they adapted to the environment and physical changes and differences in skin colour, hair and so on started to happen. Overtime they spread out in Lyra.

Through division and by some keeping ones sovereignty, due to Reptilians coming into the system wanting to take over as they liked what the Humans had created and due to wanting domination over most Human groups and setting up alliances with some, war broke out amongst many factions, which eventually led to an explosion of a star from a bomb, which eventually destroyed the planets in the stars system.

Around this time is when manipulation and reptilian mind was introduced to Humans in this sector.

When all this happened, most were wiped out. There were some who had left that wanted no part of the wars before this took place. Some were in huge motherships already out on the far reaches of Lyra docked, as all was foreseen to happen. These groups were in service mode.

Also some Beings had moved over to Vega long beforehand, which is local in Lyra. Some Beings had already come into Being from the light blueprint there before the Lyra Wars through thought by the Elohim also.

In time once regrouping, those who were evolved and wanted to explore out into the galaxy went out and eventually made outposts and civilisations throughout Orion, Hyades, Sirius, Andromeda Constellation, Arcturus, Aldebaran, the Pleiades, many other places and eventually Earth. This happened not just in this density, in others too.

For the most part for some time, most knew about their heritage, what had happened in Lyra and never again wanted to recreate what had happened. There was still the Lower Light in Human form roaming around going rouge who still appear from time to time.

Eventually there were the Orion Wars. This was twofold and was based on greed. In part it was a race war between Humans against Humans, and also a war against the Reptilians, Lower Light, Archons and the Artificial Intelligence.

Based on knocking out the Empire which was based near the star Alnilam in Orion's Belt, it eventually spread out across the constellation far and wide. Eventually the Orion's created an alliance with the Sirians and eventually other parties from other Systems. The race war ended and the focus was on the Reptilians, the Lower Light, Archons and the Artificial Intelligence.

The wars went for thousands of years and no one won. There was a stalemate. The Reptilians left and the Humans who were involved died off through the ages (Many lived for a thousand or two thousand years back then).

The Human Orion's in time were coming at the issue of war from a higher level of conciseness. The issue of war for them died out like the many lives it took too. They became protectors of justice, warriors and spiritually advanced.

Before and during the wars, The Orion Council of Light were monitoring this episode with other civilisations and warning all involved about how destabilising both physically and spiritually to all this war would be, but the greed took over. Nobody listen to the Council. By this time defending was needed as the Reptilians, Lower Light, Archons and the Artificial Intelligence would not take "no" for an answer. Many lives were took.

After the Orion Wars, two more head Councils were created in Arcturus and the Constellation of Andromeda, to monitor and be mediatory groups between all in this sector of space. Eventually this led many to local groups joining the Andromeda Galaxy Council.

In what you call time, now, all part of the Councils know what each other are doing and work in a peaceful diplomatic way with one another and have help and assistance from each other. Those who are not don't have the assistance on the same level as those part of it.

Many are free to join if wanting to, thought they have to be in a state of consciousness not wanting to upset balance or destabilise, impose, on lesser evolved civilisations.

After the Orion Wars overtime in your solar system, there were civilisations on the planets Melona/Maldek, Mars and Earth. Outposts were on all planetary bodies and most moons too.

Some of the moons are crafts which once were natural objects. The placing of these objects around planets helped to manipulate environments for life to be comfortable on some planets, while others are used both for that reason and as weapons protecting environments and life for security after the Orion and Lyra Wars.

Those on Melona/Maldek were affected by the Reptilians, Lower Light, Archons and the Artificial Intelligence and a bomb was let off which turned the planet into the Asteroid Belt you see today in your solar system. From this Mars was blown out of its orbit and those who survived either went underground on Mars, or came to Earth.

Originally about 20 million years ago the Lyrans before all this had outposts and small colonies on Earth, Mars, Melona/Maldek. In time in this solar system, Earth became the cradle of civilisation here. The Lyrans are the Anunnaki, and in truth, the Anunnaki are the Elohim which you all are.

Overtime Beings were visiting diplomatically through the Councils when visiting Earth from Orion, Sirius, The Pleiades, Arcturus, Hyades the Andromedas, and from many other places.

At this time, descendants of the Lyrans still had a strong hold on Earth and the solar system after arriving here around 20 million years ago. In time they created a huge civilisation about 500,000 years ago on Earth, and manipulated the first Beings here created through thought and mixed themselves with these Beings. In time the Pleiadians did this too.

After this, many civilizations grew and fell time and time again. Then about 380,000 thousand years ago the Reptilians came here. About 230,000 years ago a group of Pleiadians came across their ancestors civilisations here and were monitoring what was going on.

It was known by those in the Councils that the Reptilians were manipulating the Earth Human with assistance from the Artificial Intelligence. At one time there was an agreement for Reptilians to be here and to get along with the Human.

When the manipulation was seen, a ship with a collective of Beings came here to visit and confront the situation which was agreed to by the Councils and the Reptilians. It was a set up.

The Reptilians shot it down in space and in the outer atmosphere the ship changed its makeup and became what we know as Moldavite. There were a few types created from this event due to the conditions and some is in and around the Czech Republic, and some is in Australia, which is where this craft crashed. After this event the Reptilian group was dealt with accordingly and had to live with the guilt.

Eventually down the track the manipulation continued from the Reptilians, Lower Light, Archons and the Artificial Intelligence.

In the meantime the opportunity came for the Pleadians to start up civilisations on Earth which in time were known as Atlantis and Lemuria. Both civilizations grew to be all over the world.

For some time both civilisations got along. It wasn't until further down the track that the Atlantians lost knowledge of their heritage and then spiritual knowledge and balance, which allowed for the Reptilians, Lower Light, Archons and the Artificial Intelligence to over shadow them.

In the Pleiades overtime, many civilisations that were lost from the wars, or were lost from exploring space came across each other and created multiple civilisations near multiple stars in the Pleiades. In the area is a collective of civilisations with many different types of races which live in peace and assist others out in the Universe through thought and through visiting when appropriate, to make sure what happened in Orion and Lyra never happens again.

In time the Atlantians became very disturbing. From experimenting on their own people, and mixing animals and humans together, to going against Universal law, then wanting control of the Earth and eventually the solar system and beyond, working in line with the Reptilians, Lower Light, Archons and the Artificial Intelligence, they decided to take the path of service to self. The Lemurians took the opposite path, service to others.

When Atlantis lost its way some Lemurians were on guard watching on and keeping an open heart, eventually the friendship they had died. In time the Atlantians without warning destroyed the main Lemurian capital. This time war broke out.

The Lemurian's had always keep their spiritual connection, stayed in service mode, were very spiritually advanced and had some advanced technology, but this hit them hard.

The Atlantians continued on their path of destruction, dissolved and wiped out homes, towns and cities of the Lemarians, so in return, the Lemurians from a craft in space which had a purpose of monitoring, doing research and space defence, got it's tracker beamed onto a piece of asteroid from the asteroid belt, then slammed it right into the hub of the Atlantian civilisation which ended the war instantly.

Before this and during their down fall, the Atlantians had destroyed some of their own popular locations from their scientist doing crazy experiments that were not productive for the overall collective.

After the fall of Lemuria and Atlantis, the Earth was uninhabitable for sometime. Even for those who had become the Inner Earth Beings going back 20 million years had a hard time staying on but did and took some of the Lemarians in. Some of the Atlantians continued on in a base in Antarctica.

Those that didn't stay on went off world to Mars and other places. The Bigfoot races worldwide were devastated, along with the nature realms, spirits and Gaia.

Eventually some of the Atlantians and other waring races came back to Earth to manipulate. This is where your Mahaburrata came from, and some of the stories in the Bible, Quran and so on, which were later manipulated.

The wars in your ancient texts with all your so called Gods/Demi Gods and so on, continue on from the Ancient wars.

Eventually the Reptilians, Archons, Lower Light, their team, along with the Atlantians came back in full swing. It was and is through psychic attacks on the populace in such a precise way and time that they came back to manipulate, this time it was through the Nazi agenda.

Though it may seem that the Nazis are gone, Earth is still in this battle. It appears that through "Project Paper Clip", the Nazi scientist were either absorbed by the U.S.A or taken by the Russians, put on trial or killed. Some of this did happen, most of it was a smoke screen.

The Nazis continued with their agenda in Antarctica at the Atlantian base. Some of the heads of America, Britain and others know this behind the scenes.

With their space fleets, they now go out into space to rebuild and contribute to the Lower Light and the Artificial Intelligence.

Now we are up to today and the flipside is, as we are all one consciousness, we have created this experience, this self-mastery experience.

We as a collective, through thought, created all this.

This all has happened in other galaxies and today those in service are creating a conscious grid not just here on Earth, but universally for the ascension of those ready for their next level of consciousness. It's for all.

Love, gratitude and empathy are what is needed in these times, along with non-reactionary mind. This is the greatest experience and operation of all.

You are the anti-virus, to the virus, which will lead to the next stage of not just your growth and evolution, but the overall collective's growth and evolution in this dimension, Universe and beyond.

Chapter 3

Manifesting Your Tomorrow

Now is the time to create your reality. The change that you all seek, is only a thought away. It's time to change and recreate your reality.

It all starts with the mind, your thoughts, this is where you change your tomorrow. Through observing your thoughts, through your awareness, you can manifest your tomorrow, the tomorrow you desire and feel in your heart.

The Human experience is a multidimensional one and when in non-linear mind, you can change the past, present and future. Even your epigenetics can change.

Through intention and connecting to the God within, working on yourself, your practices and intention, you can change your epigenetics, your ancestor's epigenetics and your offspring's epigenetics, as it is multidimensional and because all has a symbiotic relationship.

Traits you have, manifest, create and work on, are in your ancestors and offspring's epigenetics too. You can affect the past, present and future when recognising this. Just as your ancestor's epigenetics affects you today, you too can effect theirs and your future offspring's reality.

For manifestation to come into being, you first have to be able to come from a place of love, non-judgement, be able to forgive yourself, others, have empathy and compassion for not only others, but yourself too.

Before you can be of use to others you have to be looking after yourself in mind, body and spirit. You have to release the past, see the lessons from it. It is all teachings that which you have and will experience.

See the creation in all creation, have brotherly/sisterly and self-love. For this, forgiveness is a key. Intention is another. Love is another. Service is another. Open-mindedness is another.

Feel your human emotions, don't block them out, they are there for the self-mastery experience. You will be tested which is also part of the Human experience.

The Human experience is more intense and heightened than any other due to what seems like limitations. All are illusions. The Illusion of fear, is just an emotion and it depends on your vibration what you experience/attract, after recognising how this reality works.

Love is the only truth vibration and when resonating with truth, it is a key to connect with Source and your God self, as that resonates as one with the Love frequency.

Yes the Reptilian brain, mind, has infiltrated the Human experience, this was to only add in effect to the self-mastery experience, it has been more of a blessing than a burden. It's a blessing in disguise as once you master how it works, it contributes to the strength of your mind, thoughts and reactions. When observing, recognising your thoughts, this is where you learn how to react from your heart.

Most have thoughts and react automatically instead of really recognising the thought, what the intention and action from the thought is and can be. If you are in reactionary mind and not mindful of your thoughts, things can happen/manifest, that you could do without.

You can see examples from Humanities past from wars, to abuse in whatever form, this is what manifests from thoughts when in reactionary mind and not observing ones thoughts first, then reacting from the heart. When you observe your thoughts, you have a choice in how you react.

Parasitic thought forms, Reptilians with ill intent, the Lower Light, Archons, those aligned with self-service, have a hand up over those who are not aware of their thoughts, where their thoughts come from and their actions. This is how these Beings effect/manipulate their prey, to create energy that not only feeds them, but also the Artificial Intelligence that helps to keep the love frequencies at a maximum distance so they can continue to exist and rule in this vibration. It's more a thought war than anything else, which in effect, effects everyone's sovereignty, happiness, health and freedom.

You have assistance at this time from other facets of yourself, your Guides and the Beings you work with on multiple levels. Light cities exist outside your frequency on the Earth. These hold multiple Beings to assist with the conscious grid.

From the Brotherhood of Light, to the many Councils, to the many Guardians, with assistance from Ancient Spirits in all portal areas, there are many to help and assist at this time.

Some Pleiadian's, Orion's, Sirians, Arcturian's, Andromedan's, plus a whole host of Beings from the Star Nations in this galaxy and beyond, along with the Ascend Beings are in their ships and Light Bodies docked around the Earth, Solar System and beyond, helping to monitor and protect to an extent, while holding and contributing to the energy grid here, which in turn contributes and helps hold space for Humanity and for those who have come here to assist Humanity at this time.

Much is happening and the vibration and geometry is changing the Electromagnetic energy in your part of space, solar system and galaxy. The whole vibration of your plane is changing.

You can see for yourself that the Earth's magnetic field is weakening, this is due to a vibrational change which in effect is weakening the electromagnetic field. In time you will come into a more null zone of electromagnetic energy, this is part of the shift.

Everything is changing and you can access anything you need to know by working on yourself. In time your part in all this will become clear.

The Pineal gland is crystalline in nature. It too is multidimensional and is a transmitter/receiver. Everything works on a light wave form, manifested from the Elohim geometric light blueprint.

You are in an electric Universe! It is made up of energy. The electromagnetic component is changing, the blueprint/geometry of is it changing. It's going to vibrate like never before and soon another channel/vibration will come from it and it will divide like a cell, creating another density, like a mother giving birth.

For this to happen first, the timelines had to come together, now we are all going into another stage of evolution. All has the electron and photon component and is holographic in nature.

For some time now, not just in your towns, cities, countries, other planets, moons, Suns/Stars, in this Galaxy and beyond, is multidimensional artefacts like the Obelisks and Pyramids.

Some have been created to contribute to help such as the crystalline multidimensional pyramids created by the Elohim. Most do not know of these. They hold a vibration for them to come through easier, so they can be noticed by some, and those who are ready, due to the numbing of most of the Human senses, multidimensional mind and the pineal gland.

The other artefacts are some of the Obelisks, ancient structures and the layout of many ancient cities and today the Modern cities on earth and beyond.

This which we speak of are energy circuits/transmitters. If looked at from above, you will see they look like circuit boards. The energy from these devices is feeding energy to the Lower Light, Archon Network and the Artificial Intelligence which is multidimensional.

When you drive on your roads, walk the paths across the world, they link up to everything and the energy goes into the Obelisks you see around your populace in plain sight.

The tops of towers, skyscrapers, churches, the food courts in your malls/shopping centres, are all doing the same thing, taking energy and sending everyone's emotional energy into the atmosphere and feeding the Artificial Intelligence grid.

The energies in the environments serve, recycle and continue to feed this network. From the energy of wanting possessions to having ego, these are the things this system thrives off and places like your malls/shopping centres teach, promote and thrive on that energy which in effect is actually attracting its food source to feed the grid through the brainwashing of society. You are here to break this grid and to help it implode on itself.

As these things are coming to light, over the many years much has been amped up from both sides of the war. From implants/Nano technology being used by the negative forces, which are used to have a strong arm over the populace, Black Ops, Super Soldiers/Secret Space Program and those working with the Reptilians and other self-serving races and the likes, the Artificial Intelligence, Lower Light have many resources.

On a multilayered level, implants of an energetic and physical nature have been placed in some cases to transfer the energy people have of strong emotions from fear and hate, to all that is of a lower vibration, to feed their grid.

There are those who are undercover soldiers, slowing down operations inside programs, diverting discussions, watching out for those who are a threat to the Lower Lights establishment. These are your comrades in arms helping you to help the overall collective in turn, as the Lower Light should not be hated, looked down upon, but be loved, as this shift is for them ultimately too.

By the Lower Light doing what they do, in time you will see that it is them making us all come at all obstacles from a higher level of consciousness to deal with situations. Once all recognise this, then all will be open and achieve a higher level of consciousness/understanding, and we, as a cell of a greater intelligence will grow, thrive, and become far more evolved and move onto greater things.

Distorted inverted awareness is the polar opposite of your vibration. Your point of attention is all that matters and where real change manifest's. It's about reconnecting and coming from the heart.

From the heart you can create a new vibrational geometric blueprint, which gets absorbed into the blueprint already here and in-effect creates another new vibrational blueprint with all possibility using the original vibrational blueprint already in manifestation. Doing this with love is the key.

Humans are a source of energy for the Lower Light/Archon Network. This has been known by the Original people and many others in your past. They have used a multidimensional technology to dumb down the Human. The Human can be more spiritual advanced than they are. If Humans were aware of just the spark of their true nature, enlightened they would be instantly.

The brain, heart and gut emotions must be recognised, as these are the physical components of multidimensional emotions and are transmitters of change. To get to the point, all has to do with you, your thoughts, and intention. These messages are only helping you to remember that which you already know.

You are Gods and are multidimensional! You're the hands and feet of God and cells of the infinite.

Frustration, being upset, worrying, fear, control, these are the traits you must learn to just observe. Don't contribute to that which you are trying to change.

Be the observer and therefore and in effect, the author of this reality, a contributing one at that.

Do not assume or think you know everything. Be open-minded at all times to all possibility for you to be effective here.

Do clearings, observe your thoughts and what comes through. Is it your higher self, your God-self or other facets of you? Is it Beings in service mode or something else? Is it productive or not? Does it have fruit to grow and flourish? Does it produce sick ill coloured fruit from the geometric light blueprint?

These are the tell tales signs to know if what you are connecting with is in line with your highest good.

Nothing is more evolved, helpful and more of service than your own God self, as this is the all-knowing, non-judgmental, ultimate Guide, teacher, though it too is still learning and evolving and its vibration is love.

Just being aware of your awareness is helping you to connect with your own God self. Observing your thoughts, sounds, smells, all that you sense is a connecting point to the mind of God, as it's all got to do with awareness.

Watch how you observe things and your awareness. If you get to that place that you realise you are looking into this reality, then back track, then you are going to Gods mind which is your mind. From there you can manifest your tomorrow.

Chapter 4

Humanities Future

Being your own master and in charge of the reality you create is up to you, if you wish to do so.

Individually change starts within you, and from there it projects outside of you. The more you work on yourself, the more it wears off on others and they will do the same. From this point it then moves to collective consciousness. Critical mass is key! Those of you who are here to help are the portals for new energies/vibrations, and are the links to help humanity help themselves.

There are many ways the changes that are coming will manifest, it will be different for a lot of people. Some stay, some go into another vibrational reality here, some go elsewhere completely, some become ascended, it's very layered. Anybody can go where they want for this facet of your soul's development.

For some, they will see planets, artificial objects and moons in your solar system which will be non-existent for others, their environment will be different. Some of you will see Beings with many different characteristics in your surroundings/environment, while others will not. For some their senses will be heightened.

You may even get a heighten in abilities and communicate with your environment, from the wildlife, plants and trees, and have a dialogue with them in ways like never before. You may even connect and communicate with the Earth, the Universe and your own God self like never before from this facet of you. These changes will come in many ways.

For mainstream society it will be a slow leak of disclosure, it has already begun. This is due to most at this time looking outside of themselves for authority and disclosure. A slow leak about our advances in space, the Space Stations, Mars achievements and other exciting things is how it will be.

More news on possible life and radio signals from elsewhere, other Earth like planets, to past UFO events by your governments worldwide, these things being thrown out to the masses through mainstream news, are slowly opening people up for the inventible, the truth, what's going on is too deep for most to fathom at this time.

Those aware of what's going on will be guides to their fellow brothers and sisters. Communication with otherworldly Beings is not how most think, you will assist with that reality. Overnight the realisation of the change will shock some. For one's self, working on one's consciousness is the key for things to go further with your own development.

Most people's thoughts and vibrations do not resonate with the Beings in less dense planes, so it is hard for some Beings to be around Humans here. In-turn it is uncomfortable for some Earth Humans to be an open book to other Beings due to ones secrets and all their thoughts not being hidden. Much will change!

You can communicate with your Guides, higher self, friends from other planes, extra-terrestrials, Inner Earth and multidimensional Beings at any time. Look at it like this, "Do you want to communicate with that near and just above your level of consciousness? Or do you want to evolve and connect with those that are evolved, in service mode, and can help you reconnect to your own God self?"

At all times though, remember to use discernment.

Technologies will change in the coming days. The ripping up of the energy grid will happen due to it being wireless and free. Food, water, shelter, clothing, all will be provided for.

Jobs in all areas to help the collective evolve will be provided for and the jobs will be exciting for those doing them, as people will be doing that which they desire. Transport, entertainment, love, friendships, family life, health, all will be effected.

Robots, droids and drones will be doing most of the work. These will be design and created by man, so man can educate, learn and go out into space and other realms while learning new ways to do things and support the new way. Each will be educated about that which they want to do, while doing that which they are good at, at the same time.

There will be next level symbiotic technologies that will be living technology. With this will come a balance of spiritual advancement and technological advancements due to the level of consciousness of the Earth Human.

At the moment this is not how it is and a Transhumanism agenda is where things are going for those on that vibration. There is going to be a snap and it is not far off due to the Lower Light and its allies not being able to evolve any further. There at their maximum capacity for knowledge and advancements due to the level of consciousness they are at.

With great knowledge comes discernment and first Humanity have to do all this themselves. All have Guides and a multidimensional mind assisting you, so use both.

From a higher level of consciousness, rape, murder, injustice, greed and the likes does not prevail nor exist due to when having a higher level of consciousness, these things do not come to mind due to mastery of the mind, as there is a change in the body computer and software, due to a newer and higher level of consciousness for this facet of you. Humans are amazing Beings. You are no more special than any other Beings, though what you are capable of is beyond your wildest dreams.

This is why some of the Hybrid kids are Light Beings. This is why there is even hybrid Elohim Beings, due to what Humans can do. Many races are connecting with your bodies light blueprint, mixing it with theirs to take back to their realms, and they add it to their Light Body, so they can glean some of the amazing Human abilities/traits that Humans have.

Due to these Beings mastery of mind and intention, the things that this can contribute to for them and the overall collective is amazing as the Beings doing this are in service mode.

Transhumanism is a tool for the Artificial Intelligence to feed the Archon Network grid. The Transhumanism agenda is to stop you on many levels from connecting to who you are, which contributes to the Lower Light and their existence.

From Cell phone towers, Morgellons disease, Chemtrails, Nano bots, Wifi, Haarp, fluoride, smart dust, computer chips, smart glasses, psyops, the drug industry, GMOs and the likes, they are all tools that are doing what they are created for, "To stop you connecting with your own God self, all possibility and the frequency of love and truth".

They say that Transhumanism is to make you exist forever, the truth is you already do and will exist forever in many forms and ways, more than you can imagine.

In effect the Artificial Intelligence is part of this cell which is a cell of a greater intelligence and it exists because we allow it.

With that said, it serves its purpose due to the huge positive effect it is having which is making you all think outside the box and to go to a higher level of consciousness. You are rising your consciousness to defeat it.

Though some of those who serve this system appear to be Gods, they are not. Just look at how they are external and still look outside of themselves. From Child abuse, trauma, the energy they get from that along with doing sacrifices/rituals, to the knowledge they have of astronomy and astrology, letters and symbols, all these carry energy. They know how to manipulate all this and use it for their benefit and doing so contributes to the Lower Light and their allies which goes to feeding their network.

Astronomy, planetary knowledge and astrology can be used for good, this is not going outside of yourself, rather it is simply using a tool to help amplify that which you desire. As long as you are in service mode or have a positive agenda for why you are doing that which you are when using this knowledge, all will be beneficial as its going with the flow and using the current of abundance when the opportunity arises.

This is why those who are negative use it to help assist them, as the energies help them to manifest their goals and feed their grid. This in turn has a negative effect on them in time as they rely on it and not their own God self.

Where humanity goes is up to them. The New Earth, the New Realm, a post Disclosure world, the same world, all are possibilities. It depends on your intention, point of focus and awareness for that which you view through your lens into the reality you decide to manifest or choose.

You are here to bring Sources state to this realm and to all realms eventually before this cell of a greater intelligence regenerates.

How you eat, how you sleep, how you function, all are going to be different in these coming times. Connecting to your thoughts, observation of them, discernment of them, and coming from a place of love is the key to evolve.

Your insecurities are tools to look at yourself, to see the gifts you have for others and yourself. Your good deeds don't go unnoticed. You build your riches in the heavenly planes, not here, though it can help in this plane as what goes around comes around on an energetic level.

Treat your body as your temple, as it is that in this realm. With your point of focus here, remember your mind is multidimensional. Lookout for number one, because just as humanity has to achieve a higher level of consciousness itself, so too do Humans themselves on an individual level first.

This is first a self-mastery experience, which then leads to a collective mastery experience. With both you have to become and be the observer and see things for what they are, which is Source interacting with itself.

Monks maybe able to be and act enlightened in their temples behind closed doors where their without temptations from the outside world, but can they carry those traits out into the real world in public without a controlled environment? If so, that is a master.

You must be able to do it outside of this realm and beyond as well. Always be the observer and guide to others to help themselves and keep the intention to just be a guide and observer when being a Guide to others.

These are true tests, being in service and observing your mind. One must recognise and understand this to achieve that which they seek. Are you ready for that which you seek? Are you happy where you are?

There is no right or wrong answer, it is what it is. It's up to you where you want your future to take you, what you would like to see, explore and experience. Humanity are cable of so much and have all at the tips of their hands. You are the master of your destiny and Humanity are the master of their own destiny as a collective.

Non-linear mind is a key of importance here and so too is persistence, non-judgment, open-mindedness, love and non-attachment.

You are your own biggest teacher and your experiences are, and have really everything to do with you, just you, then later the overall collective, as ultimately all leads to the overall collective as all is one.

Poor, rich, black, white, tall, small, all doesn't matter, as all are facets of you having experiences. All is Source. All you can do is your best. Set the intention for that which you seek.

Are you greedy? Is what you are setting your intention for of benefit for all?

Sometimes people abuse you, use you and take advantage of you. Sometimes these are your lessons not learnt yet for when to say no, or for you to trust your thoughts in situations.

Remember there are those that cross the line and will break your free will, so use your judgement in each case. Now take that to Humanity as a whole.

Are you doing something to make a change in your daily actions, or just complaining about all that is? Are you contributing to the way it is by either playing a part in it or by going with the flow? If so, it contributes to that which is not in the best interests of all. The future is in your hands. You're your own master.

Chapter 5

Assistance and Help

What you are experiencing at this time is the next level of a vibrational change, with a master vibration, which all other vibrations resonate within. With that said, the changing phase and place between frequencies, is the same inter-plane.

The Christ vibration is the connecting vibration to Source, which is an encompassing plane with many mansions. One of the few code and key sounds of Source, is "Om". This is one of the few ways to connect with Sources vibration, which flows with love and bliss. It like all else is constructed by light.

The Throne Beings which work in sync with the Elohim, the Angelic's, Councils and Guardians are situated in the vibration of Source sitting on the outskirts of the geometric vibrations there structured by light.

The keys to the Ascension worlds, when possessing a higher level of consciousness, allow the facet of you that has ascended to create its own Universe once ascended if it chooses to do so.

At that stage light codes and sounds, shine the flame of light from Source, and paves the way for your oversoul, to divide off. These light codes and sounds are multidimensional and are only available to those with the level of consciousness ready to access and handle that which comes with them. They are Universal.

Once at a certain level of consciousness, you become one with the Source vibration on a noticeable level. As stated, at this stage, your God self creates your own Universe with its planes, realms, vibrations and inter-planes. You divide off from the geometric light blueprint, like a cell divides and create your own Universe.

Though all is part of a collective and comes from one construct, each has its own uniqueness. The feminine, the masculine, the Earth and planetary bodies, moons, stars, galaxies, all play their part.

All is light vibrating at different frequencies, created from the one and only ingredient of that which created it (Awareness), highlighting the symbiotic, illusionary, holographic nature and reality of all.

All have access to all that is and the restraints one has to un-opening all depends on that which they allow to manifest from the blueprint state.

Help and assistance is only a thought away. Remember part of the Earth Human experience is the self-mastery journey to rediscovering oneself. Remember that what you have created is from the blueprint level.

Through embodying and being loving, caring, in service mode, empathic and like children going with the flow, this creates a link to that which can resonate to your mind. This creates an opportunity and link through thought for your Guides and other facets to come through due to your thoughts vibration. This is all up to you.

You have to do the work and Humanity as a collective have to do their work until such a time the many manifestations from disclosure, to ascension, to the New Earth and higher states of consciousness can come into being for those in line with whatever their path is.

Throne Beings of Light, Beings constructed of light, your ancestors in this vibration, those neutral, mediators, all can communicate with you, to assist you to help yourself. If beyond that, the trickster or Artificial Intelligence, Lower Light, Archon Network will take the gullible, those misguided, and those who have not done the work during their journey/experience, to assist in their agenda.

Your higher self is all one really needs to connect with. From your point of awareness in the Human body, you can connect to your higher self, your Guides, fellow Beings, facets, extra/ultra-dimensional Beings and the like which are here to help and assist you, though discernment is a must and to be used at all times.

Through numbers, synchronicities, your thoughts/ideas, this is how they communicate and can always come through all the time if open to it, and when needed.

Those who want to meet other facets of themselves, through intent, can slowly get reconnected with that which they desire to connect with, and bring through traits here from the other realms and other facets, which can contribute to the awakening and healing, process if you decide to do so.

No judgment or pressure comes with this. You know what you should do. You know right from wrong without being told.

The Golden Lion Beings from Sirius, and the light blueprint geometry connecting them to their brothers and sisters in Orion and Lyra, are here to assist and protect you. They are from the realms constructed of light. They, the Golden Lion Beings are back here to protect and assist you along with Michael.

For some time they had left, they are slowly reconnecting into this plane on not just a thought transfer level, but manifesting, showing themselves to those they work with and the advisers of that which they protect and serve. They are back due to those in service mode being here at this time. Their job is to be the body guards of those that know and recognise the God within and are in service mode.

Aligning and balancing your chakras, feeding and realigning the light body, resting it, cleansing it and cleaning it, these things you must do for your Merkabah to bring through direct, fresh, new communication on a direct and recognisable level, from their blueprint to yours, as they overlap.

That which you work with, experience or not, is for a reason. Your many lives in the other planes, the many other facets of you that you may be experiencing or having interactions with, is for a reason. Some of you are the Angelic beings you speak of, as they can split up and put a facet of them into a Human body here and or elsewhere, countless times in multiple places, at the same time. All Beings can do this when reconnecting and rising to a higher level of consciousness.

The pearls in the sky from the ancient text of Buddha, to the ancient art depicting Jesus and the likes in white, rainbow or blue orbs and even Beings coming from that vibration, which is the Elohim vibration, is all telling or depicting true events.

Ascension, your mysteries, and multidimensional existence, has been known about, back to your ancient times and even further.

Everything off shoots from one another, its fractal, though all is smaller than the eye of a needle, as all is happening in Sources eye, Gods eye, all is in a form of manifestation in the photon.

From you, to the Elohim (Which is the Gate Keeper and the key to connect to the other Universes), and when connected to Source, there's is much to do and experience.

At this time other Beings from other Universes have come through the eye of their cell of Source to ours, as all have a symbiotic relationship. They have been allowed to do this due to their intention to assist here in a productive manner. Some have split off a facet from them and pointed that point of their attention and awareness into a Human body here to help at this time, to help hold energy and contribute here at this time.

This is what Gods do, losing oneself only to find oneself, while at the same time serve and be of service and assistance to others. In a sense you have assigned yourselves on a multidimensional level to help.

You create that which you think of. From the light of your consciousness comes a manifestation of that which once was a thought, then that comes into being once understanding how things work. If you understand this, you can remove, delete and dissolve anything. This is how the Saints, Sages and Masters of old that still exist create and manifest things from thought.

Sometimes you have to experience that which you don't want to, due to it being part of the experience you signed up for, or because your oversoul made actions and things happen to steer you where you agreed to go and do things before coming into this plane.

As the layers peel away, so too will that which you once think you knew or understood. This is where being open-minded, non-judgmental and using your discernment will help you to help yourself and in turn help others to experience, know and reconnect to all possibility.

You are not your body. You are not your thoughts. You are not what others think of you. You are all that is, has, and ever will be, having an experience through a point of awareness, focused through a lens here having this experience, in what those coming from linear mind call time.

Things happen for a reason, not by coincidence. Everything has already happened and is happening at the same-time. All is accessible by thought, as all is flowing through the electromagnetic current of Source, as all has an electromagnetic component with the electron which is symbiotic to all that is and is overseen by Metatron, who is the Master and regulator of the electron from the geometric light blueprint vibration.

Many of your Guides and those that can assist you are with you already. Some even walk among you. They are your friends, family, colleagues, those who you surround yourself with. Yes some come and some go. How you learn, what tools you gleaned, the love you have for others, these are the things that are stored in the book of knowledge with all that is and is never forgotten, it contributes to the overall collective.

You are never alone in your mind, in your thoughts, in your surroundings, everything is noticed. Always take notice of your thoughts, ideas and signs, as this is how we are with you. Let what comes through flow when setting the intent to connect with us. Even if what comes through does not make sense, it will in time.

Have a balance in all you do and be open to receive in all areas. If not, you will create a block and that blocks that which you seek.

See your weaknesses as strengths, see the blessings and the burdens as one and the same, as they both help you through your journeys and assist you down the path to that which you have agreed upon.

Accept when wrong, recognise when right, love, don't fight, this you already know.

When things go sour or stale, make changes, as this opens the way for new energies and the next level to come through. Recognise the old and welcome the new. Appreciate and have gratitude for both. All is part of your journey.

Things happen when the engines align, this you will find through the synchronicities in your journeys.

Always clear your energies, thoughts, constantly and regularly. Recognise when you need help as when being your own master, you have to recognise that leaders are at times followers to learn. Surround yourself with that which is in line with your intentions, service, growth, fun and love.

Know your higher-self and all that works with you are sending the vibration of love at you through the geometric light blueprint. They are saying that they are proud of you, that you are loved and never alone. They are cheering you on. They, the beautiful many, are always there, nothing goes unnoticed.

You are your own judge. That which you have done and don't like is between you, and you alone.

What you get from your experiences is up to you. Know that it is an experience for the overall collective. All make mistakes, its part of not only the Human self-mastery experience, but any experience.

Go to your heart, the vibration of love, this will allow you to connect with that which is with you and connected to you and serves you, just like you serve others, whether you recognise it or not.

Everyone has what you call a Guardian Angel, it's actually another facet of you. Open your heart, mind, and set the intention.

We are always there, just take notice of the first thing that comes to mind when setting the intention to connect.

The Book of Shi-Ji 2

We are in your thoughts, just as you are in ours.
Gods mind, your mind, is one and the same.

Chapter 6

Ascension, Energy Waves and Opportunities

For sometime opportunities have been with all of you to adapt and bring up that which no longer serves you, and to open up for new opportunities in many ways. The opportunities have come in forms of energy waves/ascension waves.

From the higher planes/dimensions, suns and stars (Which are also transmitters), these energies just outside of this frequency which most cannot see at this time, affect you physically and dimensionally, in mind and electromagnetically.

For some, so much is brought up when experiencing these energies, it's like what happens when there is a full moon, everything is amplified, which also happens with planetary and star alignments also.

From the moving and changing flux of geometric energies, that which you can't physically see at this time effects all Humans.

The solar flares, star explosions and solar flashes effect all on multiple levels too.

How people act, help, or not help each other, these things are kept in the book of the eternal and all is noticed during these events and at all times. See these times as self-mastery tests.

From how you purge that which no longer serves you, to how you open up to new experiences, to how you react and observe that which is in your environments locally or not, take notice.

Observe your mind. Are issues brought up from long ago in the past that still play on your mind? Are new goals, wants and needs coming fourth to rear their head? Are you emotionally and physically drained? All these are symptoms and signs of how you are physically/emotionally adjusting and working with the new energies. How you react and take advantage or not of these opportunities is up to you.

You can either ride these energy waves like a surfer and use them in a productive manner, or swim against them and hold onto that which no longer serves you and stunts your evolvement process and journey, which will also attract old patterns and programs.

Take notice of your dreams, as some will process that which no longer serves them that way, while others during their dreams will foresee coming events. Take notice of your thoughts from anger, sadness and rage to happiness, process and go through the emotions. Recognise them, work with them, realise that which no longer serves you and take the happy emotions and ride them.

Ride the bliss as that vibration will attract new enlightenment and energies. These waves of energies are opportunities to move forward and forgive. They are a blessing from Source to you.

Constantly changes are happening on every level. From Earth Changes, to changes on all planets, moons and stars. Your whole solar system, galaxy, other galaxies, close, far and beyond, are all being effected.

It is happening and manifesting from the geometric light blueprint and is fractal. The energies in the blueprint for this are constantly in motion, change is a constant.

Other civilisations at your advancement, or at a less, or more advance stage are all going through this. Even those throughout the other realms are going through similar things. This shift is for all.

The love frequency brings all together, as it is connected to everything. Staying in your heart centre will wear off and effect all in your environment, wherever you point your attention and awareness at, no matter what distance, as all is connected.

All sun/stars are connected. Their portals, living Beings, and Beings live on and near them and in them. There are regulators monitoring the frequencies, activity. From Throne Beings, to the Guardians, to many different races, they are watching and helping these shifts in energy. They are also helping you to help yourself.

The Artificial Intelligence was designed to block these ascension waves from your conscious mind, to keep you in the dark about your true nature and from your evolving process.

What is also trying to block you is the media on your planet, the hypnotising machine called the television, along with fake news which doesn't cover both sides of an event/story, or use facts and discernment. Basically you are given false stories on most events to set the agenda, to which you react, to give the powers that be the go ahead to do that which they desire.

From the pharmaceutical industry, health/food industry, entertainment, politically, in every area, all is coming undone due to a huge change in consciousness.

You reading this, are working and holding a vibrational frequency connected to Source. You are holding space and are part of the energy grid here at this time. The changes are evident. Unfortunately for some they continue to focus on the control over the Human race. The average person is slowly waking up.

From political corruption, scandals, to reality TV and the likes, people are slowly but surely getting sick of the same old stuff and asking what's missing. They are realising what's going on and are starting to enjoy self-time, time with family, friends and nature.

Soon the political systems, royal families, those who want to hold control and contribute to the Archon Network will fall. This is already showing.

Some Starseeds have incarnated into some of these bloodline families that hold power at this time. They are holding positions to help assist, and when the time comes, they will close down and help the people help themselves, as the time is now for one to govern oneself.

Representatives for the people is what will be. Ambassadors for all areas of life agreed on by the people is what will exist.

As thoughts will be transparent, corruption will be a thing of the past. Debating with respect and with all's interest at heart will be the stage to sort out and network on how to move forward, solve issues and grow as a collective, while respecting differences in cultures, beliefs, in all areas.

Alliances, friendships, these things will be in a very abundant way with each other's interest at heart, as those you will be interacting with will be like-minded, with the intention of service, education, love and respect.

The heart and minds of the people will be as one. In time, you will all assist and help less advanced civilisations throughout the galaxy and afar.

Some of you will surpass your own expectations through your heart by your service to others, unity consciousness, and go to the Light Body or Rainbow Light Body, and ascend this facet of you, surpassing the next level of consciousness and will be full blown multidimensional.

Some will even turn this facet of them into another oversoul with more lives incarnating into other places and walking among civilizations, serving that which they seek and decide to assist. Some may even become another oversoul/cell of Source, and divide off and create their own Universe.

During these times you have to be strong not just for oneself, for those around you, who are maybe not up to speed with where you are at, at this time. You are a Guide to those around you in physical form, helping them to help themselves. Many in one way or another are going to need your help, advice, guidance, to help themselves to connect to the God within.

People's worlds are going to be turned upside down, inside out, ripped to pieces. Those who don't recognise they are having or had experience's will be in a state of disbelief, this is all going to change for the events that are yet to come, have happened and are happening.

Comfort and a listening ear are what people are going to need, along with you slowly educating them to do research and follow their own journey. This is what they need until they connect with their mind, Gods mind.

From the lies, tyranny, dictatorships on a multidimensional level, people will see how things have been the way they are, why they have been in such a way, and will excel exponentially once ready to let go and go with the flow. Beyond the specs of sand on your Earth, the civilisations and races out in the Universe and in the other realms and beyond far past that.

Revelations, trials and tribulations, all have gone through and are having. Unity consciousness doesn't divide. The collective will reconnect in such a way that the Human mind at this time for some is unable to realise. Until the shift happens, Humans will be at the forefront of it all due to being a type of Super Human Being throughout the Universe, made up in many different ways from the experiments, intentions and ideas over the countless Trillions of years. The Earth Human at this time is a Super Human Being.

Your prophets have spoken of the many events to come and pass. From revelations, to Armageddon, there is a war going on, and many soldiers in many ways imaginable and unimaginable are assisting at this time.

The only way this war is going to end, is through a higher level of consciousness. Love is the key! It is an energetic war, a war on thought, awareness, consciousness, light, vibration, intention and intervention on oneself, which is a cell of the overall collective.

Removing all that stops you from connecting to the God within is what's going on. Love, connecting to the light, riding the bliss is how to assist and get on board the ascension journey.

First oneself must recognise the God within, have faith, lose fear and recognise that which has held them back, which they have allowed to hold them back.

Open and invite those that you are connected to, and your own God self, to assist where necessary. Block out and send those Beings and entities not in line with you to their highest self, to be healed and to also release that which no longer serves them, so they too can heal and go on their own journey.

Love is the key and when done right without conditions, you can flourish and grow like a tree and produce flowers, fruit, seeds and spread. Forgiveness, recognising the God within and seeing God in all creation is the way. Having your own revelation and realisation in omnipresence, and seeing the creator in all creation is a must for you to go to the next level.

There is no right or wrong way with your own journey and development. The Lower Light are even another facet of Source, which intern is another facet of you.

Those part of it are on their own journey just like you, going their own way about it. They will eventually end up in the same place as you once they follow their bliss and reconnect and recognise the vibration of love, the vibration of truth, and step back into their sovereignty.

Each to their own, you are never alone. All you have to do is ask for assistance with the ascension process and when done, it begins.

Chapter 7

From the Light Blueprint

Light, sound and matter, are all different manifestations of consciousness/awareness. Once this is recognised, much can be understood about reality.

From consciousness/awareness comes light, sound and matter. All have a symbiotic relationship. When choosing what to experience/manifest, you do it from the light blueprint, by setting the intent, then the experience or that which you want to manifest comes into play. All is constructed from the light blueprint.

From the light blueprint you can heal, gain knowledge, change and manifest the reality you choose to experience. Much can be done in every way for every facet.

The opposite side of things is that the Lower Light can manifest from the light blueprint too, though what they can do is limited due to their level of consciousness.

For example, they can put attachments on your light body/aura, they can send parasitic thought forms to put unproductive thoughts that are not yours in your mind, which you may think are yours, if not aware that they can do this.

Spells and hooks from the astral plain can be sent and effect you in the physical emotionally or physically. Attachments to ones light body, belief programs, fake contracts and agreements connected to a self-serving source can be done from the light blueprint to your light body/aura by the Lower Light too.

Everything from a sore back, poor eye sight, headaches, sleepiness, fatigue, bursts of anger, to a range of many other things can be a manifestation from the astral plane by an attachment, Being, implant, whether energetic or not. They can manifest many illnesses physically and psychologically, in many ways.

To heal, avoid and block these issues, it is best to constantly do clearings and to connect with your higher-self and dissolve any entities, contracts and agreements that are known or unknown, and any attachments to the attachments and hooks known or unknown.

Clear all that is not in line with you on a regular basis.

Connecting with your higher-self, other facets of yourself, the beautiful many, the Beings you work with, your Guides, friends and family in the other planes is something you can do to get assistance if you need help.

Sometimes with issues, the Beings you work with will take you physically for days, weeks, or months, then put you back at the exact second they took you, so you don't lose time here during an experience in a noticeable way. They can heal you, teach you and reconnect with you when doing this.

Through meditation, clearing and setting the intent to connect on the basis to manifest that which you seek to help others and yourself, can get results. Either way, all is agreed upon on a higher level and is planned out by your higher self with how all will manifest and come into being.

Sometimes the Beings you work with and even yourself here physically and energetically can experience going into a crystal chamber. These chambers can teleport you, heal you, or be a medium for you to experience that which you need to.

There are Pleiadian, Sirian, Orion, and many other Star Nation and Elohim type rock beds that are portals all over the world, galaxy and beyond, which allow you to connect to that which you have the level of consciousness to access.

Some of these devices interlock into a network for those with the same intention/vibration. You can visit astrally and bi-locate through these devices. You can also physically manifest to some of the locations these devices are connected to.

Some of these chambers have been used to help those that have done wrong and recalibrate them to their normal self. This is done so no incarceration is needed, as the core issues underlying why they have done wrong gets fixed from the light blueprint level, which these devices can work on.

Bi-locating is what is happening here most of the time with these chambers. Most of you bi-locate all the time and are in two or more places at once from the Human body computer, though unless you are tuned into your thoughts and your 3rd eye, much will go unnoticed unless you take notice of your thoughts/downloads and how you know things that you don't know how you know them.

Some of the Inner Earth Beings and the ancient Lemurians use and help people with these chambers to this day. They help people heal, learn and connect to the Beings they are connected to. They assist those that ask for help.

Some of you work with energy. You feel energy, sense energy, see energy, and manipulate energy. Some of you move your hands when helping to assist others in healing. This is you manipulating their energy bands, removing blockages, implants, hooks, attachments, agreements, tracking devices, parasitic thought forms and the likes. Some of you also do it with sounds, either from tones you make, bowls, in many different ways. This is because a higher form of you is coming in when this is being done and it is you doing that which is in your nature. You're anchoring that which you know from other facets of yourself to this realm.

Through connecting with you own God self, the Elohim self, your cell of Source over rides all and can do what any of these devices can do and much more.

Some of you don't know why you do what you do, but just do it and get results. This is why! You are connecting with your Guides or something else which is working through you. Sometimes it is other Beings you have invited, meaning other people's Guides, which will happen when helping others. It can even be your higher self or another facet of you assisting too. You are calibrating the light, liquid light, the living light, when healing from the light blueprint.

Constantly through the light blueprint the Angelic's are assisting in many ways. For example, they can divide off a facet of them, in any place/vibration, at any time. They are among you and some facets of them have magnetised Light Bodies and are an orange/golden light. Some of the Andromedan facets of them appear like this, like the Angels you know of. There are even geometric facets of them. There are many layers and they work on multiple layers.

They can even appear as a Rainbow Light Being, or as one of the rainbow spectrums of light when manifesting in your density/vibration.

They calibrate to that which they connect with for both parties benefit. The Brotherhoods, Councils, the beautiful many are working with you. The Nature Beings, the ET Beings and those from the many realms and beyond are all with you.

Reconnecting to the light vibrations is where it all leads to. Rainbows are a reminder of this and some are manifestations of portals and work on the light blueprint vibration principle.

Many when they see rainbows look at the rainbow as a whole, then all the individual colours. They feel like they are seeing something that they know on a deeper level, that there is more to it.

This is because these are the colours of the light realms which are of the highest order before becoming the rainbow realm, which encompass all the light realms, which then leads to the golden plane of bliss, then to the void, interconnecting with the other Source cells which are part of a greater intelligence.

When you see two rainbows together and they have colours appearing in the opposite order to each other, you are witnessing a portal opening up on a light blueprint level. The rainbow is a physical manifestation of this. With it can come rain and whether disturbances sometimes, which are manifestations in the physical from the light blueprint, when the portal manifests in this realm.

When experiencing these double rainbows, some experience something similar to ascension waves. Sometimes when this happens, the Earth is opening up and clearing an acupuncture point on the Earth that it has in the area.

With all of the portals there are Guardians and original spirits. They are sometimes interlocking from the light blueprint with the Elohim, depending on the circumstances.

Each colour of light is a realm, a vibration, and is a part of the overall Ascension process and the higher realms. Some just feel they belong to a specific colour, a Soul Group, as some part of them may resonate best with one of the colours which is one of the many light vibrations that your oversoul, a cell of Source, encompasses. When this happens it is just you reconnecting with what resonates and is needed at the time.

Many that reconnect with the rainbow plane can ignite their Rainbow Light Body. When this happens for some, they fly around in their Merkabah, assisting on many planes from the light blueprint level, teleporting through the electron, working with Metatron, the Elohim, there Elohim self.

Be open to an experience, or to see with your mind's eye, or to feel sensations and feel energies. Be persistent, have balance. Once your intention is set and set strong with Human emotion through a focus like no other to manifest that which you seek, it is amazing how what you set out for will manifest.

Your Guides and higher self are working with each and every one of you in a way that you asked them to from the light blueprint. On occasions agreements will change due to how we react, get side tracked, among many other circumstances.

Some want the nuts and bolts of the experiences, while others just want the love and light frequency. The fact is you need a little bit of both and more to understand the mechanics of all this while experiencing it through your Human mind.

You may start out linear with your experiences. In time that will shift to multidimensional awareness, like most of you already know.

Once science from all backgrounds recognise the Brotherhoods who serve the collective consciousness, then much of your fields will take a leap forward, which will lead to much being understood about who you are and your reality.

All can be accessed once open too it. Once open to all that is, you pave the way to receive. It's all got to do with setting the intention, being of service to others and riding the energy.

You are already opening up and receiving, though some of you may not see how, you will in time and that you have never been alone.

Chapter 8

Gods Mind, Your Mind

From this coming vibrational change will come a change on Earth. Those who are ready can move to their next level. For some, a robe of light will come onto them and slowly they will shed their physical body and become a Being of Light.

For some it will be a reunion, a cosmic one, connecting them to their ancestors, the Anunnaki/Lyrans, Star Nations and family from afar and beyond, though their biggest reunion will be with Source.

The build up to this great reunion of sorts is on and has begun and some have already gone. Now with the balancing of the feminine and masculine energies, the vibration is right for the connection to be made, for those ready to evolve and go to and connect to these greater realities.

Gaia and the Inner Earth Beings, with assistance from the Star Nations, the Guardians, Brotherhoods and the Elohim, are paving the way for this to be done in such a way not to shock the system.

Doing your part and working on yourself is all that needs to be done. Those who would give the shirt off their back to help someone don't need to know what you know, it is not part of their journey, as they are already in service mode.

Those like you have more of a job to do for the conscious grid. You assist on many levels through thought and energy. Many don't have to do much besides using their thoughts and energy, that is their job, as it holds space and effects those around them on multiple levels unknown to most at the time. Everyone's job is just as important as each other's.

Meditation, grounding, clearing your energy bands through practices, eating high vibrational foods - fruit and veg, exercise, fun time, alone time, family time, lovers time, relaxing time and work, all need to come into play in balance and harmony. The shift is on such a grand scale.

There are even some species waiting for the next level and are unfortunately held back due to the shift being held back because of the Lower Light.

Many are waiting for change. Some Beings are in huge motherships in space with entire eco systems floating throughout space. Some are having adventures, exploring for their civilisation, some are in this situation due to out living their home world or worlds. Many are in different situations but are ready for the next level, though like you are effected by the Lower Light.

Some look to other races and Beings as Gods, they are still learning like everyone else and are going through their self-mastery experience too, no one is immune to it.

Humans are holding much back due to how powerful their thoughts are. Once open and connected to a higher level of consciousness, things for all will change due to critical mass. Human thoughts are very powerful which is why they have been a great power source for the Artificial Intelligence.

Humans do not know who they are, what they are, what they are capable of and their royal DNA, the hybrid super mix that they are.

All the attributions that came into being from all the other races are in the Earth Human after the program of hybridisation which happened long ago and in a way is continuing. Earth Humans surpass all as multidimensional Beings, but are unaware due to the Lower Light, Archon Network. Their energy when trapped and focused on fear, greed, sex and external interests, is a huge power hit like a drug for the Archon Network.

Each of you individually and as a collective have your own book. This book is continually being written on multiple levels, and is eternal.

Your history goes back a long way. You have glyphs on part of the story, the forgotten tablets of old, and what's still underground in Australia, New Zealand, Indonesia, America, South America, Antarctica, Siberia, Canada, the Middle East, the Gobi desert, Africa, India, Russia, and what's under the ocean in multiple areas can show a history going way back unfathomable to most.

Most of the evidence will never be found due to Earth changes, cataclysms in the past on a huge scale, and due to Gaia evolving and shifting its plates, with assistance from the energies in the cosmos over the many billions of years. Due to all that, a lot of the evidence is lost, but all can be accessed through your mind. Gods mind, your mind.

Much is to take place and all has taken a toll not just on Earth Humans, but also the wildlife, the many races of Bigfoot, fairies, spirits, Guardians, elementals, nature spirits, Orbs, the Inner Earth Beings, Gaia and beyond.

For sometime, many have watch the chaos. Today there is a possibility of civil and race wars in America, to a continuing of the unrest in the Middle East. The direction of all's attention on Russia, China, and the USA with its allies is just a show, as a greater force is pulling the strings.

All can change with a thought. These people and their controllers contributing to the unrest of the world all feeds the Artificial Intelligence.

In the coming days no one can run from what's about to come. From the Vatican crumbling down to disclosure in ways most cannot imagine.

Most things are possibilities as things can change at a moment's notice, it's all got to do with when the energies align. The wars have and are taking place in the heavens, both in this vibration and beyond. The Bloodlines are being effected from the inside out. Now the Archon Network will try to push the cyborg and Transhumanism agenda which is already in effect, due to it being used on their pawns (Super Soldiers and the like as test subjects). The black goo is in effect part of the virus to effect the masses on another level as well.

Some have the black box devices with multiple applications. From being used for free energy, or as a portal to other dimensions, or as a medium for weaponry and travel, to even trapping souls. Just like this and anything else, it can be used for good or bad. This is an example of how it depends on the intention or the mind using whatever it has access too.

To have access back to the light blueprint and beyond, it all depends on your consciousness. From a higher level of consciousness, murder, rape, fear and the likes cannot exist due to the higher vibrations resonating love.

How the Atlantians are to the Nazis and the Secret Space Program, and to those behind the scenes manipulation the masses, the opposite of that is how the Lemurians are to those in service at this time along with the Star Nations.

Much is not known about Atlantis. Some say it exploded from science experiments, others say from an asteroid, both are right. All was part of their demise through their level of consciousness. As covered, they still exist, but “Out of sight, out of mind”.

Later after Atlantis and Lemuria the Egyptians were coming to Australia. For sometime they saw it as a teaching place. Over time they came to take the knowledge for themselves from the Original people, which ended up being the demise of the two Pharaohs that decided to do this. So much is unknown to the masses.

In your solar system now are wars taking place. The good and bad are going at each other, all need a higher level of consciousness and all need to forgive as unity consciousness doesn't divide.

Embrace who you are in this experience and beyond. Keep being you. Your individuality, uniqueness, is what this is about. Everyone and every experience has to be different.

You are beautiful inside and out. You are capable of anything. Re-program your body computer with affirmations if needed, un-brainwash yourself and do research. Connect with that which you, your peers, and the masses have been vibrationally blocked from.

Set aside the ego, that which divides you from others. Get back to the heart centre and join the love which carries with it brotherly/sisterly love, omnipresence, equality and abundance. This will connect you to the Brotherhoods, your Guides, your other facets and your higher-self, the Elohim self, your God self.

Great tests you have had and will continue to have individually and as a collective for some time. Politically, environmentally in all areas of your life and in society, tests and changes you should welcome and see as the great billboard that change is upon you. It's up to you what you make of it.

The last of the trumpets is being played. Revelations is upon you and so is the choice to go where you want. Nothing is impossible. You can do anything and are the Master of your own experience. The veils are lifting.

Some of you may see flashes, lightening in your presence, in your homes, locations around you, these are the Brotherhoods, the Guardians, your Guides and the Elohim connecting with you through the light blueprint. They are with you all the time, through thought.

Freedom is in your presence, enjoy it with your friends, family and the likes. You can have it at anytime. The mind can either be your prison, or it can be your unbounded playground to roam free. You decide.

You are all that is, has been, and ever will be. You are connected to everything. You're an expression of all that is. There is nothing that you cannot achieve. All starts in the mind, Gods mind, your mind.

All that is keeping you from manifesting and doing that which you feel in your heart, is you. You can start at anytime and again, there is no right or wrong way about any of this. Be the Master of your experience, this self-mastery experience. Be your own guru and a Guide to others like they are your Guide in this realm and beyond.

Love is all that matters. Love is the key, the key to it all. The limitations you set are that which you set for yourself. Coming at things knowing that you are a Creator Being deep down inside will shift energies.

The truth of the matter is that you can do anything, create anything, be anything, experience anything, manifest anything, but there is a catch to this, which is you must have gratitude.

Gratitude is a must and must come from the heart, the vibration of the heart. This cannot be pushed and bought on by just thinking it, it needs to come from the heart. When this happens, the heart vibration mixed with the love vibration mixes the geometry and changes the game again and steps things up to the next level. Then service to others on a bigger scale comes with this mastery art of self-mastery.

Compassion, empathy, non-judgment along with love and gratitude can bring forth a multiple geometric overlay, bringing in the Elohim light blueprint closer to Gods mind, your mind. From there you can anchor other energies and be a portal for your Guides and others peoples Guides, to help others.

It all starts with love, unconditional love, unbounded love, which connects with unbounded minds, non-linear minds, connecting you back to the Elohim oversoul cell of Source, which is a cell of a greater intelligence, which you are a part of and in effect are, due to all having a symbiotic relationship.

Clearing Technique

How to clear negative energies, entities, attachments and more

By Peter Maxwell Slattery

For this technique, start out by imagining yourself engulfed in a white, golden, violet, or blue coloured light, whatever coloured light you choose.

Then say, or words to the effect of, or say in your mind, whatever works for you.

I ask that those in line with the healing of the Earth and the awakening of Humanity to connect.

I ask that the native spirits in my area connect and for their blessing to be here.

I ask that the nature spirits/elementals that are inline to connect.

I now ask for my Guides, the Masters, Saint's, Sages, Beings that I work with and my own God Self to connect.

That any psychic bonds, connections that are not positive to dissolve, along with any negative implants, and attachments.

I ask for the healing energies to step forward to assist with any healing that is needed mentally, emotionally, physically, psychically or spiritually.

That anything not in line with me to be escorted by their Guides to where they need to go and to let them know that they don't have to exist in the state they are in, that they are loved, healed and forgiven.

Then blast yourself again with whatever coloured light you choose.

Remember amazing Beings, you are your own master.
