

The Book of Shi-Ji

Cover design and format by author Peter Maxwell Slattery

Painting of Shi-Ji by Maryann Wade

ISBN 978-1-312-82810-0

Peter Maxwell Slattery © 2015

The Book of Shi-Ji

This book is dedicated to all beings throughout all planes, and in between, throughout the universe and beyond.

The Book of Shi-Ji

Chapters

Thank you – Page 7

Introduction – Page 9

1. Gods do interesting things – Page 13

2. Angels, Guides, E.T's and beyond – Page 27

3. The self-mastery experience – Page 39

4. It is all about lessons and experiences – Page 51

5. Compassion, love and gratitude – Page 63

6. The God within – Page 75

7. Create your own reality – Page 87

8. Some stay, some go – Page 99

9. The next phase and the new beginning – Page 111

Final note – Page 121

Books by Pete Maxwell Slattery – Page 123

About the Author – Page 125

The Book of Shi-Ji

Thank you

First of all, I have to say that there are way too many people to mention, so I just want to say that I would like to thank all the people that have come into my life, all the people that have taught me lessons, been my Guides, helpers, teachers, and all that have had words of encouragement and have supported me on my journey.

Also I would like to give a special thanks to my partner Solreta and her children, my family, Ben, Mum, Simo, Dad, Liz, and my very close friends Giles, Britt, Eli, Alan Ferguson, Damien Nott, Brad and Souzanna Thornton, Barry Littleton, Mick Harrison, Leigh Kerr, Nick Ciavarella, Prue, Maryann Wade, Karol, Ann and Mary Rodwell, for their unconditional love and support.

Thank you also to all the Beings I work with, my Guides, the Orion's, the Sirian's, the Plejaren's, the Star Nations, the Elohim, Metatron, my own God self, Source itself, and last but not least, Shi-Ji.

Cheers

Peter Maxwell Slattery

The Book of Shi-Ji

Introduction

From the 24th of November 2014, to the 2nd of December 2014, Shi-Ji wrote through me what you will read. For those of you who don't know about my story or who Shi-Ji is, I will give you a very brief overview.

I am an experimenter from Albury N.S.W Australia, and have filmed many crafts (what some of you would call UFOs). I have had many experiences with Beings from many different densities and places, throughout the cosmos and beyond.

I have documented a large majority of this in my previous books "My Awakening Part 1 and 2", "Operation Starseed" and "Breaking Free".

In December of 2010 I went public as I was on prime time news on Channel 7, with some footage I filmed in October of 2010. Later that was followed by an appearance in 2012 on one of Australia's biggest morning shows called "Sunrise", which is also on Channel 7.

What's interesting many say about my story, is that I have many witnesses to events around me. To date I have over one hundred witnesses to parts of my story. From sightings of crafts, to high strangeness activity, to sightings and interactions with Beings when in my presence, many people have witnessed many things when around me and some have gone on record about it to.

Now the being that wrote through me in this book calls itself Shi-Ji, and originally appeared to me as a solid living person. Later in time though, she showed me her true nature, and she is not a female, or Human type Being at all, but a Light Being.

Later it was also revealed to me that this Being is from the star Merope in the Pleiades, and that this Being is a gate keeper there.

Now also in this book are messages from other Beings that came through Shi-Ji when writing this book, which I got to see in my third eye during the process of Shi-Ji using me as a vehicle to write this book.

The messages are from the Elohim, Metatron, The Councils, the Star Nations, and from races in Orion, Sirius and the Pleiades. All these Beings I have had interactions with before too.

Many of my interactions with Shi-Ji started out as seeing her in my old apartment during the day, or when being told by telepathic communication to go outside and I would see her or her craft. All this continues to this day and in a conscious state, not a dream state.

Later the interactions got more intense with interactions on her craft, and now at any time she can interact with me not just by telepathy, but she can appear in my third eye.

During my whole life she has spoken to me in my mind, but I didn't know it was Shi-Ji until later. I just heard a female's voice in my head and never questioned it, as it never said anything that would harm me or others, but had wise and good advice.

Now yes she is not a Human, or a she, but I still refer to this Being as Shi-Ji and as a female, as the Human side of me needs a reference point to communicate what Shi-Ji has to say, and as it gives others a reference point as well.

With all this said, a few people have interacted with Shi-Ji, and don't be surprise if with intent, your Guides, the Beings you work with, or even Shi-Ji comes through while reading this book. After all, there is no such thing as a coincidence as I say, and you have been led to this book for a reason. In saying that, I hope you enjoy.

Cheers

Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 1

Gods do interesting things

You, as a facet, of the collective, have chosen to be here at this very important, what you call time, on Earth. You are playing a very important part in the upgrade of not only Humanity, but in the Universes evolution, in the overall scheme of things.

You and every Being, plant, animal, insect, everything on Earth, have chosen to be here at this specific point in our own illusion. This has not been done on a scale like this before either.

Beings from all over, inside and outside our Universe are watching what's happening here, as how the upgrade happens, is the show of all shows.

Before a facet of you came here to partake in the Human experience, you had many life time's gaining knowledge and having experiences, to be able to handle the Human experience. Some of you have even been Human before, or lived inside the Earth, or just outside the frequency you are in now here on Earth. Though the Human experience is the experience of all experiences, with it also comes the self-mastery lesson of all lessons, all has led to this.

You were all warned before taking up your contract, of how hard your missions would be, you still took the job though, due to the importance of this mission, as this job is for those who are in service mode.

Many behind the scenes, that you call Extra-Terrestrials are your back up, your comrades, your fellow soldiers, though most of you are unaware of you being them in spirit. Even now a facet of you is a part of what you are interacting with.

Due to Source, The God Source, Universal Consciousness, God Consciousness, whatever you want to call it, had not experienced any other state before, what has happened was expected, meaning why things are the way they are (Which happened after the implosion, then the explosion, of Source, which happened in the process to create many manifestations of realities, and the many planes of existence and inter-planes).

For many of you, you have come here with amnesia, as your higher self and those you work with all agreed that it would be of benefit to you coming in forgetting who you are, and due to the collective here losing the oneness long ago.

It had to be part of the mission for you to do it like this, due to not only you might not being able to handle the Human experience knowing the real reality, but also due to the programing here, it had to be done in this way, due to those who are part of the program could manipulate you even more so than you already are, and prevent you and the overall collective from having to do what you came here to do, which is to help yourself, against really another facet of yourself, in the bigger picture, which are called the Archons.

To all that is, there is a positive and a negative. This is what occurred when Source decided to create all that is, besides it pure state of love, before playing out what we are a part of now, as it too had to evolved. What is happening is part of its upgrade and it growing up.

As I explained to Pete a while ago and as he already knew, and on some level as you all, already know, this is how Source created the other planes and inter-planes.

In the beginning, there was a huge golden white light Orb (This is Source). It had never experienced anything else except love, though it wanted to experience other realities and to gain knowledge and have experiences, so it decided to split itself in two. As it did this, one half of it exploded into zillions of spirits, while the other half expanded as it kept its resonant frequency to contain the zillions of spirits.

As this happened, helper Beings were created, which you may call Angels today, among other things. Each and every one of you and all that is, is one of the zillions of Beings that came from Source, and is Source, a cell of Source.

With this said, to be able to handle the Human experience, you have to have mastered and experienced many other states of being, such as being an animal, a plant, a rock, as many things.

The only time this does not happen is if you have recently left Source and came here to help when the call was given to come to Earth to help. In that case, as you had never left Source before this experience, your higher self (Which is a cell of Source) downloaded experiences of lives that other Beings had experienced, in order for the volunteer (The Being), to have the experience to do the job it came here to do.

This is why when people say that they are Jesus, or many other famous Beings throughout time here, they actually could be, and yes many could be telling the truth, due to their program incorporating Jesus's program and the like, as that was part of the program needed for them to be able to have the experience to do what they came here to do.

That being the case, it is still hard being here for you all. Many have left and gone home, and or let a walk-in take over their body computer, due to it being too much. Some have even taken their own Earth body's life, due to it being too much due to how dense, limiting, emotional, and hard the mission is, as it's not like this where their vibrational home is, that they over their many experiences came to call home, when not at the higher state of Source.

When either the body computers life has ended, or when a walk-in has been asked to come in, all parties agree to the decision, as this is how things work on a Soul, over self, level. So even though a spirit has entered the body, if it can't handle this life, it can leave.

In order not to waste the Human body though, another being can come into the body and have all the information of the body's life, due to the information of the Earth life being in the body computer.

Also at any time you can go back to Source, due to the true nature of ourselves being in service mode, no matter what cell of Source you are, you would agree to come back down the track, and deep down you know this. So even if you decided to end your life or leave, you would decide to come back, due to your self-service nature, even if you once agreed to a walk-in taking over.

Going back to when leaving Source, you slowly go through your experiences as many things other than Human, until you can handle the more complicated and limiting experiences such as being Human. Then when you Master that, you become an Ascended Master, Being of light, that can do whatever, as at that point you know the profound nature of all that is, due to your unbounded state of consciousness and due to being in service mode (which comes with it), and your understanding of oneness and being an active part of it.

You have been many things. You go from and have had such experiences as being a plant, insect, bug, animal, then to more evolved experiences, like being some of the Beings you are interacting with on some level, then the Human experience.

The Human experience is the hardest, as it was a highly engineered experience, created by the most advanced Beings throughout all planes, as a collective experiment within Source, for the physical plane. This had to be done.

In time but by reincarnation, those who had done their walk here, and moved on to the higher planes, had to come back, due to the reincarnation process being diverted to a recycle system here, due to the Archons (The Lower Light) program, which manipulate and recycle Souls here, holding back the rest of the Universe, and Universes from evolving, as a collective, due to limiting their own advancement and Soul growth, by creating a program where they use Human emotion to survive.

Those who are known as the Archons (The Lower Light), are referred to in your Bible as the fallen ones. Due to misinformation, and due to many of your ancient texts throughout many of your controlling limiting religions being manipulated by the powers that be, the real information is only left in parts of your so called teachings.

The Archons are known by many names throughout many cultures. Some know them as Jinn, demons, there are many names for them, and there are many different types due to how they too have evolved. Some look like what you commonly refer to as Greys (Though not all Greys are of an Archon nature), others look Human (or so they seem), some look like Shadow Beings, deformed fetuses, some look Reptilian, and all these Archons can all shape shift.

They can appeared as what they want, they can trick you, they can manipulate you and more than ever now they are coming through and showing themselves, due to them now losing their control over power.

Reptilians are believe to be the culprits behind the scenes with the control on your planet, but they too have been manipulated.

They have been used as a shield, as a patsy, instead of the real culprits being found out, which are the Archons (The Lower Light).

The Reptilian body is easy for the Archons (The Lower Light) to overshadow and manipulate, than the Human body, and the Reptilian's can easily manipulate the Human body, which is why the Archons (The Lower Light) possess a Reptilian sometimes, then through them, they manipulate the Human.

With that being the case and since in recent times, as some of the Reptilians are now taking their power back, the Archons (The Lower Light) are more than ever directly over shadowing Humans and doing psychic attacks directly, as they are almost out of every weapon in their arsenal, in their fight trying to keep their control in power. So now they don't care about the wear and tear on their vibration as they are trying anything and everything to survive.

Once the Archons (The Lower Light), were the Elohim (Also known as the Anunnaki), but due to some of them wanting to go a different direction, due to them wanting to play and manipulate other vibrations and be in self-service mode, their makeup and structure of their being changed also.

Today they rely solely on emotional negative energy from Humans, animals and even negative spiritual energy from ghosts and those that have not passed over, or that have tried to but haven't. They have a grid around Earth in your Solar system, which includes, the Moon, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The grid is controlled by an artificial intelligence, which now controls the Archons (The Lower Light) due to them creating it to do so, it runs their program.

This program has a safe guard and virus protector to protect them from their program being bought down. You are the virus bought here to change their program, to help get the Universe and beyond back on track, the Archons know this.

There is a frequency in your Solar System, trying to keep you all under control, which is why higher vibrational Beings like yourself reading this, had to come back or come here, and be part of the mission here, as you can handle the Human body and manipulation here, as you have been here before or been given the program to, and obtained the tools to play apart and help Humanity break free, which also helps the Archons (The Lower Light) break free and all Beings throughout the Universe and beyond, due to what's happening here is affecting all's evolution.

With the capability to recycle Souls within the Solar System, the reincarnation process here in the Universe has affected the other Universes in evolving also. That will soon change, which is why all this is happening now.

The Archons (The Lower Light) are able to capture, trick and recycle Souls here. They have been able to basically recycle their power source, which is negative emotional energy. In being able to do this, they have been able to create many factions within the Solar system to help contribute to their agenda by possessing other Beings.

From Human bases under Reptilian, to really Archonic (The Lower Light's) control, to Super Soldiers, they have the same technology as the evolved Beings from planes beyond to contribute to their control, while using Reptilians, powerful families and corporations, as the front men for their own operation.

The Archon (The Lower Light) in their original nature when once the Elohim, could do anything, and create things by thought, but when changing their vibration and going into self-service mode, that quality changed in them and they therefore had to connect and create lower forms of technology which is far less superior than the Elohim's today, as the Elohim do everything by thought. Still the Archon's technology far surpasses Humanities, but not for long, as Humanity don't really know who they are, they too can create things by thought.

The truth is that there is a war going on, and all are a part of it and those in the thick of it don't have a clue (meaning the masses of Humanity). The Elohim are at the forefront of the war to at this time, against a much sinister force than the Reptilians which is the Archon network (Which was once them).

Just like anything else, there are different levels and vibrations of the Archons, but not the Elohim as that is a Creator Being state and cannot become any more advanced at this time, but they can fall, which the result of that is the Archons.

Really what's going on is a war against one's own self. Once you understand this and the true nature of reality, the profound nature of reality, which is that "All is one", and that "What you do to others, you do to yourself", then will you understand how everything is connected and one consciousness. Deep down you already know this.

You are God, a cell of God, and those who know this, will understand what is meant by "Gods do interesting things". Division and separation is an illusion and so is all that is going on except when in the plane of Source.

24th of November 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 2

Angels, Guides, E.T's and beyond

Connecting to the God within, is really an illusion, as you are already connected, it's just that on the physical, what you call 3D level, you have forgot, which is part of the Human experience, along with finding yourself again also!

Losing yourself and finding yourself, is part of not only the Human experience, but the self-mastery experience too.

Those who give you sign posts, help, and advice (Which is up to you to take or not), are what some of you call Spirits, Extra-terrestrials, Guides, Ascended Masters, Saints, Sages and so on. Their teachings over Human history when not manipulated, have the truth in them, that what they can do, you can do.

At times there have been very active Light Cities, like that of which the Brotherhood of Light have, and yes, even today, many Beings live right beside you in Bases in your mountains, oceans, volcanoes and under your homes in your Cities and Rural areas. We are just out of your frequency and at times are spotted by those who choose to wake up, unknown sometimes to their consciousness, though all is happening for them on a higher level.

Due to portal areas having a good vibration, most Bases are near these portals due to vibration. All these portals are overlooked by Metatron.

Each spot also has Ancient Beings that work with Metatron in them, along with the Guardians, which are connected to the "Council of the Whole", which are under the vibration of the Elohim.

In Australia for example, the ancients at these portal sites that work alongside Metatron and the Guardians are Aboriginal Masters. Also due to how ancient some of these Aboriginal Masters are, not only are they located in Australia, some work at other portals around the world, due to them being located in other parts of the planet long ago.

In America you have the Native American Indian Masters that work with Metatron and the Guardians in those areas, due to their connection to certain areas. In China, Ancient Tibetan Master Spirits work in those areas with Metatron and the guardians in those areas. In India, Ancient Indian Masters work with Metatron and the guardians in those areas.

At this time many of you are working unknown to your conscious mind with some of these areas, as you have certain abilities and can heighten the energy needed in these areas, due to more energy needed in them at this time.

In time some of you will become aware of the work you are doing and the assistance you are giving to, and receiving from, certain areas of the world, from mountains, to rivers, to oceans, to volcanoes.

All is happening to help with the transition and to help with the distribution of energy over Gaia, due to the vibrational change it and all are going through.

Due to the energy in galactic plane, every planet in the Solar System is being effected. From this, the energy causes the tectonic plates to shift, which heats up your oceans as the volcanoes are going off under your oceans. This is why everything is heating up, because of the change of energy. The volcanoes are a sign of this and it's not just happening on your planet.

The Sun at this time with the Solar flares over the past 20 years has become more active and is assisting in these changes, as it to, with the Earth, and the other planets and Moons, have and are being abused due to the grid put up by the Archons (The Lower Light), which in turn has made Humanity become the abusers to all in your Solar System, and in effect, the Universe and beyond.

Those you are interacting with at this time, whether subconsciously or not, are your Guides, all have agreed to work with one another. They are here to help assist Earth with healing at this time and to help the Human race heal and reawaken, which in turn will help with the overall collective in its evolution due to the setback created by itself.

With this knowledge and realisation, it is important to still recognise that you and all Beings have free will, self-responsibility, and it is up to you what you do with it. We can only help guide you, assist you, you have the final say on how you proceed. As Pete says, "Look at the fruit from the experience, that's how you can tell if the experience is what you perceive as positive or not". If it's of a positive nature, do what you will with it, if it is not, still do what you will with it, but know that anything that is in self-service mode can only develop to a certain point, it is limited, where being in service mode is unlimited.

Leaving the plane of golden bliss (Source), to come down the dimensions to have this physical experience, is what you have done, though you also have free will to go back to Source at any point through ending your contract. Like that which we spoke of in the last chapter, you would still come back to Earth due to the call anyway.

A large amount of those who left only had certain missions, or had to come back just for certain things to finish their walk here, due to that was what they were meant to experience, which was agreed upon not just for their self, but for the whole, as all is one and as one is all, as all is interconnected.

Your Guides (You have many, some in Spirit form, some E.T, some you cannot perceive), can be called upon at any time. In doing so, notice what thoughts come to mind, as this is how your Guides interact with you, by thought, though many of you think it's your own thoughts.

While in the Human body, you can and do have trouble taking notice or believing what information comes through due to mind chatter. The rule to go by is the first thing that comes to mind, which deep down you all know. Also take note of impressions, symbols, letters, and images, in what you call your 3rd eye and take notice of not just number synchronicities, but any synchronicities.

Humans through programing expect contact to be something that it is not. The truth of the matter is that it is happening all the time, it's just that those who pick up on this, realise this. Also while everyone else goes by saying that things are just a coincidence, they miss the signs, though coincidence does exist, if you think it does, as that is your programing. So if you think it does exist, it does.

Through quantum mechanics, today many are realising that the experiments being conducted are affected by the observer. So you have to understand that outcomes are affected by the observer and their preconceived notion of what they think and their belief system. So therefore the outcome is going to fit their agenda.

We, your Guides, are here all the time, we work in sync with each other, for the collective, through "The Council of the Whole", at the higher planes, down to difference committees of the Star Nations, Galactic Councils and Federations, which are terms we are using to give you a reference.

Through number synchronicities, take notice of your thoughts, as at times they are not your thoughts, they are thoughts projected to you from your Guides to help guide you to your tailored experience in the reality you are in. Number synchronicities are a sign to take notice of your thoughts at the time you notice the number synchronicities. This is how we mainly communicate with you, through thought.

This is done in a way to not disrupt you too much, or to harm your body computer, due to it being programed a certain way.

With number synchronicities just take notice of your thoughts at the time when you have them, or beforehand, or think about what you were talking to someone about, or listening to at the time when these number synchronicities happen, as it is a sign, whether for you to take action about a certain matter, or a sign for you to research something (Which you will also be guided to do anyway), or confirmation on how to go about something confirming your thoughts at the time.

You are at the forefront of the experience here, we are here to help you behind the scenes. With the Archons, (The Lower Light) they are doing the same thing (though be it in a negative way) playing out their agenda in your realm behind the scenes, so we had to do the same thing, which we all agreed upon due to universal Law, though they (The Archons) have broken that Law, and now things need to be rectified.

As one of the “Universal Laws” go, an advanced civilization that is more advance than those it comes across, cannot openly interfere, and if they do interact, there is a certain way and limit in which they can, due to it not being allowed to affect the civilization in a disruptive way too much, as all Beings and races have a right to develop spiritually and technologically at their own rate (but again, this is only if those who are the higher civilization, agree to this illusion), which the Archons have not, as they have infiltrated in a way, that is not so noticeable, as they hide behind the Reptilians, and as the Reptilians hide behind those that are their Human vessel.

As this has, and is what is happening, all of those not part of the Archon agenda and network, had three options, which was to do nothing, or to reincarnate and play a part in Humanity at this very exciting time, or to help behind the scenes which is what is happening during a lot of what you call UFO sightings, which are many crafts of both a positive and negative nature.

At this time as it has been agreed upon, many of you are catching up with what some call your Star Families. All of you have been many Beings before and the Beings you are interacting with, a large majority of the time, you have been. They are your friends, family, Guides, and even other facets of yourself, yes, some of them are other facets of yourself interacting with itself, just like how we are all one consciousness interacting with itself in reality.

Seeing things like this shows how all is connected, how all is known, and can be known by anyone once practicing the awareness of oneness and thought.

Through thought, this is how you can call upon and connect with your Guides, or get your own information, by jumping ahead and accessing whatever one wants whether in the past, present or future, as all is happening at the same time.

Your governments have known this and came across this, but even they have been taken down the beaten path in a controlled way to access information (Which is known as remote viewing), in such a way where even they are limited in the information they get from the method they do. It shows a glimpse of what can be achieved, but limits the remote viewer and their information by doing it the way they do, which is linearly, due to their format and process, where the real process is what comes to mind, that's it, no writing it, just downloading it. "What's the first thing that comes to mind", that's it! This is how remote viewing and communication across all dimensions, and all types of Beings is done, by thought!

Remote viewing the military way, has been manipulated by the Archon network as they were on to it. It has been manipulated just like the messages from the Saints, Sages and Masters of Humanities history, the masses have been misled.

The fact is that you are God, and the Guides and E.T's you interact with are to, all is, as all is a cell of it, within it. When all together we make up God. It's just this experience here has been set up for you to slowly understand the true nature and reality of things, so you are not shocked too much, due to the huge nature of what is going on in Human terms, from the manipulation. When not in the body, all this is easy to fathom, as you are unbounded and all that is.

Call upon your Guides, connect with your Guides, realise some of your Guides are different facets of you, that in the end all is one consciousness. Work with your Guides and know that you are loved not just by them, but by all.

Just take the time when directing your intent to connect with your Guides, and block out those not in line with you, and take notice of your thoughts, your environment, what you see, hear, and feel, as your Guides are with you all the time. All you have to do is take the time to notice.

25th of November 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 3

The self-mastery experience

Besides being on Earth in service mode and workers of light at this time, as the biggest changes throughout all planes and Universe's is happening, what you are also here for is for the Human experience, which has already been mentioned.

The Human experience has the most lessons of all! With it comes not only the illusion of separation, but limitations and high emotions, these are all illusions though. To be able to overcome all this, and see all for what it is, is the lesson here.

You have not been disconnected from Source, you have not been keep in the dark, you have not been cast aside, you have not been forgotten, you have not been lost, you have only been distracted from the real reality of this illusion.

Realization of distraction once truly recognised, along with the reality that you are a cell of Source (As that's the real reality, that you are all that is and ever will be, and has been), you can manipulate your facet of reality due to you knowing that all is an illusion. It all starts with a thought!

Due to many races from Sirius, the Pleiades, Orion, Arcturus, Lyra, Andromeda, and Reptilians and Mantis Beings and the Elohim, to many others (including different densities of races from the same places mention and more), with the collective goal to create a super being in the 3D realm, what came about was unexpected. All is actually part of their upgrade as well, and now Humanity are going through an upgrade too, everything throughout all planes, throughout the Universe and beyond are.

Many wonder why they look like the Beings they interact with (Meaning two arms, two legs and so on), well that is because you are us, a mixture of us, and you are continuing the program today, while the different races on Earth mate with one another. Getting back to the oneness in time, you will regain and have the abilities back which are lying dormant within right now from long ago, which were lost when losing the oneness.

First you must master your emotions and thoughts, while in the body having the Human experience. Once this is done by enough of you, this will affect the collective, as it will be easier for the rest to do.

Many of you are directly from Source and higher vibrations and have come back down to this realm. When placed around the Earth like you are, you create an energy grid.

This affects everything! Those between you, near you, above, and below you, all are affected, a lot of you do not know this. Many want to know their place, the reality is that a large majority of you have come here to just be here.

Just by being here you are affecting and playing a part in the healing of the Earth and the healing and awakening of the Human race. As an extra bonus to this, while here you also get to master and experience the Human experience, the experience of all experiences. From Yeshua, Moses, Muhammad, to Buddha and all the Saints, Avatars and Sages, they have been the messengers of this.

From here you can activate your light body and connect with your multidimensional self, and connect with your Merkabah and experience different light spectrums as one at the same time, as when connecting to your higher self, you can be unbounded.

Yeshua, Muhammad, Moses, Ezekiel, Buddha and many others, had not only done what they have done here on Earth, but they have also done their walk in many other places, then they go back to Orion, the Pleiades and elsewhere and reconnect with the Orion Council of Light, the Elohim Councils and many other Councils, this is what they do, as they are in service mode. This is what you are a part of.

No "self" is recognised when in service mode, as you see and are the oneness, as when in that state of awareness (Oneness), that is what you do. It's what your true nature and program is, "Oneness".

The evolved ones who have done their walk automatically go back to Orion, the Pleiades and so on, due to their experiences and missions being complete, at which time they create new ones. Understanding love is the key to all this. Other races from far and beyond love, but not like Humans, unless at Source, or a Master or at the state of unboundedness, as the Human state has emotions like no other. The intensity of love in the Human state is still not the same as at Source.

No organism can equal it, which is why many of you may like sex, due to it being close to the state of bliss you are at when unbounded or at Source. By mastering your sexual feelings to (Which are an illusion), is part of the self-mastery lesson here also.

We are not saying to not have sex, rather that everything should be done in moderation and within reason and coming from a place of love, without ego and jealousy.

The experiences and lessons which lead to self-mastery, then to service mode, are not done just for the sake of it, rather for the love and passion of it, as you come from a place of love and service, when in service mode, which self-mastery leads to.

Ego is one of the main programs trying to stop you from reconnecting with the God within, it can be broken. It's a distraction and is one of the main emotions you must master in order to see the illusion of separation for what it is, an illusion. Ego divides, which is what they want, the Archons (The Lower Light).

Ego is the reason for the tower of Babel which led to the separation of Humanity and led to Humanity losing the oneness and not understanding each other. Ego is the reason why they (The Archons) manufactured and in a smart way, got the go ahead by the masses for royalty and a social structure, which did and does contribute to the Lower Lights power, which is a front like the Reptilians being the ones in control of the manipulation, when it is really the Archons. Ego is the root to all this, but it was engineered that way.

Ego is what today divides countries, states, towns and people, there is much that can be taught from it.

Like the yin-yang, one of the key components to ascending and reconnecting with the true nature of self and all that is, is balance. Balance of family life, social time, time with your partner, time by yourself, exercise, all is about a balance, from there you can excel exponentially.

In order to be productive, healthy, spiritually connected, and happy, balance is the key.

What most don't realise, is that being here you must walk in two worlds, it's part of the self-mastery Human experience, and that is one of the hardest things to do while here.

When one starts to awaken, they realise the illusion and see the manipulation for what is, at which time they think they have it all worked out, only to find how deep the rabbit holes goes, then they try to project their reality on others which is worse than what those who are controlled by the Archons (The Lower Light) do, as they have an idea of the real reality, where those manipulated do not.

With awakening, what also happens with the lesson of self-mastery is learning to let things go, and to judge yourself, not others, and then later on to not even judge yourself. All this starts with you.

We are not trying to judging the others that we write of here, we are rather pointing out, that the so called awaken ones when starting to awaken, judge others, when they don't want to be judged themselves. They are doing that which they are trying to stop happening.

Instead of that, you should all be judging one's self instead of others, as when awakening you have more responsibility. Even then you should not judge yourself as it is also a distraction. Out of all this you should really be observing sensations and thoughts.

You see the more you know, the more you recognise. You see the real reality slowly for what it is, it is a process. One is not fully enlightened till they have done their walk and are connected fully back with Source. That being the case, what needs to be mainly recognised at this time with one's self, is that of being in both worlds at the same time, and having a balance of both worlds.

What we mean by this is when some awaken, every waking moment is spent researching, listening to others, rather than trying to connect and go on their own journey and find out their own information, which is going to come to them anyway.

With this, sleep, health and relationships are affected in a way that is damaging. Most sadly go through this and get through this, as in time they find a balance, and that process is their journey. It's what they had to do on their walk here.

Again finding a balance between this world, and the spiritual world, is the main balance you have to find as you have to have pure balance in both worlds, as you are here to bring that reality through to this one and vice versa.

You have to have pure balance due to you being here in the first place, which is to play a part in Humanity. In order to do that, you have to have your own connection to the spirit world.

Whether subconsciously or not, a lot will just let things be how they are due to them mainly being energy workers and not having to consciously know too much, but still they have the Starseed traits being interested in healing, the paranormal, UFOs and many other subjects. We are all energy workers, though most are not aware, and they don't have to be, as that is their job while being here. They are "Undercover Energy Workers". It's even hidden from themselves, which their higher self has agreed to.

Doing the energy work and holding the energy here is important, as we all have to do it to help have, hold, and contain, the energy here for what is already, and is happening.

Having a balance between both worlds is where you will be most effective and in effect, you will learn the most and have the most fun and exciting times here. You are here to help and you can only do so when connected, which you may be unaware of, which is why some of you have been led to this book. As above, so below, you manifest that reality here also.

The main point is to just work on yourself, find your own connection and have confidence. Yes the Human mind over time, as it has been conditioned, has been conditioned to give you doubt, that is part of the Reptilian trait which was also given to the Human body computer, this is distraction. Anything with distraction and hierarchy is an illusion and is not coming from a place of love and service, it is a distraction.

For this to be realised, you need both yin and yang. Even with the Councils and so on, no one is above or better than anyone else, everyone decides and does what they do best, this is how it works mainly elsewhere! We do what we love and are passionate about as that is the best way we can help others.

Even if we are not the best at a particular thing, we have the opportunity to learn about a subject and master it, as we have passion about the particular subject. All support each other on these decisions. Even if you are not the best at something, you are supported anyway because of your passion, while doing also what you are good at.

Captains on ships do that, as they are best designed in their reincarnation of that facet of their life, to do that job. The pilots are best suited for that job, the scientists, the diplomats that are on the Councils to communicate with one another do what they do, as they are best at it.

Many races embrace what they are good at, compared to how most Humans on Earth do not, as they are programmed from an early age to help strengthen and contribute energy to the energy grid created by the Archons (The Lower Light). This is breaking down though.

For self-mastery to work, you must work on yourself, in time that will project outside of you and manifest in the reality it is directed to manifest in. All you can do is work on yourself, over time the collective will do the same. As more do it, it contributes to more becoming Masters easier, though when unbounded, you are all Masters. You just have to realise that when in the Human body, you can be a master to. It's up to you.

26th of November 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 4

It is all about lessons and experiences

What you call life, is about gaining as much knowledge and having as much experiences as possible, it's about experience. All this goes into what some call the Akashic records and it goes towards Source understanding itself.

Much while in the Human mind cannot be comprehended unless in a meditative state. A higher level of consciousness is needed to evolve. How you have that is through a greater awareness and through having experiences.

When you are done wrong by, or you have done wrong, learn from that. Those with a greater understanding of reality understand that when you do wrong to your brother, you are doing wrong to yourself, as when you see God in all that is, that is the reality of the situation. You are God and so is all that is. It doesn't matter if its material objects or not either. If you think something has consciousness it does, as all is made from a cell of Source.

Treat others as you want to be treated, has been the common saying on Earth for a long time, still it is not put into practice as it should be.

When done wrong by, see what you can learn from it. When you do to others what you would not like done to you, learn from it. Know that you don't die, that no matter what, you will always be ok. Don't worry if your ego is beaten; see it as a lesson, as a time for growth, as a self-mastery lesson, when having the Human experience.

With all this said, also know when to stand up for yourself or fellow Beings, as that is a lesson in courage when you do so. Over many thousands of years on and off on Earth, many Humans have lost that quality, which is why some have not stood up for others and their own rights. It's because of the illusion of punishment, what others think, and even acceptance.

Know that you need no other Beings acceptance, except your own, that the God within (Which is a cell of all), loves you all unconditionally, no matter what you do. Understanding Omnipresence is a key to this!

The illusion of separation is what has been programmed into the Human experience at this time. You are the virus sent here to rid the Archon virus (The Archon network), here at this time, and move on, so all can evolve in the bigger body, which we will call Super God Source, which is what your Universe and all the other Universe's are a part of. Only a few have seen the other Universe's while in the Human body and mind.

When having the Human experience, it is hard to absorb the vast enormousness of it all, knowing that Super God Source is a part of something bigger.

Shedding and losing others beliefs, your own beliefs, the programs of separation, is one of the biggest things you will have to do while here.

We know it is hard as only the Gods that chose to come here to help, had the courage to do so, due to their drive of service mode. Understanding this, you can understand that being here is, and was not, ever meant to be easy.

Even when phasing in and out of densities, planets, stars, the inter-plane between all that is in your Merkabah, a trade has to take place. Nothing dissolves or disappears, it just changes state. Everything thing is energy, so to understand this, you have to understand that all is energy and that energy cannot disappear, it can only change state. Just like when connected and using your light body, your Merkabah, you don't float and fly around all the time, you pop in and out where you want by thought and through thought energy transfer, as when connected, you can understand energy transfer and how all is one, so you can connected with other particles anywhere in space and time.

At this time your scientists know that two particles apart have a conscious connection when separated. What we are saying is that you can manifest anywhere, anytime, through thought. When you knows this fully, you know that any particle is you, another facet of you on a huger scale, all is a cell of Source and is connected.

Once teleported, or what seems like teleportation occurs, you can then walk, fly, whatever, around in your light body, manipulating matter as you understand the oneness and that all you are doing is manipulating yourself. This too is part of the self-mastery experience for the facet of cell you are using to have this experience.

You see many lights in your sky are advanced Beings. Some are in service mode, some are in self-service mode. The ones you call Masters (Which you are to), are floating around in their Merkabah's once they have teleported to this plane. When in their Merkabah's, many Beings can join as one or separate, you can do whatever. Those who see and experience this are having experiences on a super consciousness level, your are communicating with family, friends and fellow Beings, which are from another plane, or Beings that are another facets of yourself.

Those using crystals, metals, what some would call nuts and bolts crafts (Even though they are a lot more evolved than what is in your public domain at this time), are still trying to get to the mastery state as well.

Though they have a conscious connection to their crafts (A symbiotic relationship), and can navigate similar to the way we do, they are still using a lower form of technology. The best and most advanced technology though is consciousness. When you know this, anything can be done by thought, yes just a thought. This is part of the self-mastery experience and if you can do it in a Human body, it is the ultimate achievement. Humans can do anything, this is the real reality.

Add your cell, your Being, your name, to the names of masters. Eventually you all will, all Beings will, before fully going back to Source to restart all this over again, like cell regeneration.

Eventually once this huge cycle ends, all this will start over again, and when that is done, the same mistakes will not take place, new ones will be made, which Source individually and as a collective with other Universe's will have to experience, in order to evolve and grow again, which for us means an all new self-mastery excursion through the planes, again. All is a part of this.

When tested during the Human experience, ask yourself, or what you perceive as yourself, "Why is this happening", "What can I learn from this", "Is something else at play here"?

Sometimes just sit back and let things play out. With Pete we had to keep repeating to him to go with the flow, "Go with the flow". No one can control everything. Even Source has to go with the flow.

Sometimes when down, or when having impure thoughts, negative thoughts, self-serving thoughts, thoughts to do things you know are wrong, or that you would not think of, ask yourself, "Are these my thoughts or someone else's". Then ask your Guides, the Beings you work with and your higher self, to help rid the energies, the Beings and psychic bonds not in line with you, and ask that they be healed and that they also move on to a better place and evolve. This is important.

A lot of the time many Beings put their power, future and happiness, in someone else's hands, when they should be, and really are, the master of their own destinies. When not in that state, they are still to have that experience, due to it being agreed to, on a higher level. Once they recognise this, this is when their next phase in evolving in the Human self-mastery experience unfolds.

Many of those who walk in the Lower Light, meaning the Archons (as all really walks in the light), will try and put road blocks in your way. These are signs that you are doing what you are supposed to be doing. Just know that the big lesson here is self-responsibility. You decided to have the illusion of separation when coming here.

When you have negative thoughts that you know are not yours, send them back to where they came from with love and light.

Many here at this time manipulated by the Lower Light, talk about love and light, though they do not recognise it when in the state they are in.

What we mean by this, is that they chose to ignore their lessons, or to be open to new things and grow. They say "That's negative", when you bring up the Lower Light, though we are at a war with our self here. To be affective you have to understand both sides.

Negativity in the end, is only what the observer perceives as negative. Those doing good are perceived as negative to those who perceive good as bad. It's all about your perception of the illusion.

The fact is that we as a collective are trying to manifest Sources state, its unbounded original state, in the other realms it created within itself.

Do not judge others, unless you have walked in their shoes. Even then you still should not judge, as your personal past and past life experiences affect how you react to situations. All have to do their walk here, and sometimes some people do not want help on a higher level, as that is part of their walk here.

You cannot also spiritually high jack someone, or manipulate and affect ones spiritual advancement, their journey, which is why sometimes you must sit back and let things be. Turn the other cheek! Each will know from thought (The information coming from their higher self), when this is to, and not to be done, as it has to be done on a case by case basis. Just know this, that you cannot spiritually affects another Beings journey. That is why some of you get blocks on people.

Patience is another experience you have to deal with here. Where you all come from and have been, you didn't have to experience patience like you do here, due to the illusion of linear time and laws, many of the restrictions Humans have placed on themselves, though again, this is part of what has been agreed upon, on a higher level. All has been created by Source to be the experience here.

Balance again is a key, with respect for the temple (The Human body), which only houses a facet of you when here for the Human experience. From what is sprayed in your air, to what is put in your food, to what substances many of you smoke and put into your body, many of you are put in a hard situation agreed upon by your higher selves. Through self-respect, will, and spiritual power, you can overcome these things.

Through thought vibration, much can be achieved. Many of the keys and signs of this is not just in the master teachings, they are also in some of what we have created in your fields, which you call crop circles.

Through thought, sound and vibration, you can change your reality. As a collective, you have to have balance between technology, and spirituality, a balance in all that you do. You can heal yourself when needed and prevent all diseases and cancers, as in a subconscious state in the body computer, you create what you manifest. From consciousness, to light, to sound, to matter, you are and have experienced all.

The Book of Shi-Ji

To know you are light and that you are consciousness, and that all is one consciousness, is the real reality of it all.

27th of November 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 5

Compassion, love and gratitude

Compassion, love and gratitude one must have for self, before someone else, when experiencing the illusion of separation, in order to evolved and be in service mode.

In your light body, you are the pure state of love, and when a facet of you is experiencing dense physical reality, your Being, your cell, is screaming to become light again, and to manifest that state of love in this physical realm, the goal is to achieve both of that.

Before we as a collective let the experiment go too far, we as a collective decided that we must experience your reality, so we reincarnated as you. When doing so, your body could not handle our energy, which is why in time we created another hybrid.

Some of you call the hybrid off shoot body, the Nephilim, and there are many types of the Nephilim we created, because as the project evolved, so did the body. These bodies were able to handle the intense energy more easily.

In time, as the experiment got more intense and today, we could only evolved the body so much to handle higher energy, so before coming to this plane, you all split a facet of your spirit up, and only put part of it in the Human body. Gradually in time as the Human body and light body adapt, and as the physical body and light body gets tweaked from energy work, in order for it to handle more energy, more spirit in time will come in from the facet of spirit that you originally split up from.

Why the splitting up from one facet of spirit had to also happen is not only because all of you have high energy, it also had to happen because those who are here now have the highest state of Christ consciousness (Though unaware until awakened).

Love is instilled in you all, it's up to you how you decide to experience your reality, and what vibration you would like to come at it from. You should want to be like kids, and come at this reality from love, and be amazed and excited by the unknown. The other option is to be fearful and negative by not having control and be scared of the unknown and go down that path.

The only thing that holds any of you back from evolving when experiencing the illusion of separation, is you. All that is holding you back is you.

From assuming out comes of a negative nature, to when something arises that is unexpected of what you perceive of a negative nature, look carefully at how you react. If it's of a negative nature, as a negative thought will come to mind, analyse the reality of what it is that you are experiencing, see what you can learn from it. Is it really that bad?

Sometimes when negative things happen, it has been pre-planned by your higher self, or those you work with, to steer you in the direction you in time go down.

To move forward from this way of thinking, you must first notice how you react and your thoughts. Then you must want to change and then change will manifest and happen if it's in line with where you're at and your intentions in your reality. A lot of people want to change but don't want to do the work, or get scared of the unknown.

When manifesting a loving and peaceful life into your existence, you will be tested on every level. You will experience life's ups and downs, as everything in the book (In terms of experiences), will be thrown in front of you to test you, it's the way it is.

The more you wake up, the harder it is, as you see more than most, so you will be tested more than most as you realise more than most.

For you to evolve and in order to change, you must first love yourself, understand yourself and grow that way. You must love yourself. Understanding others will help you, judging others will not. The main thing is to work on yourself and understand yourself.

How you affect your reality is through you, through your spirit, your higher self, by bridging the gap between realities and connecting with all facets of yourself and by understanding the God Cell of yourself. It's the way it works.

Once you start to work on yourself, and once you have compassion and gratitude for all that is and your experiences, that is where a tipping point in terms of evolving and experiences with the all-knowing part of yourself will happened. From there service mode more than ever before comes into play, as that is what happens when all these things are done. You attract that which you seek.

Even if what you are trying to achieve seems impossible, see that what you are trying to manifest into reality already happening, see that it actually has happened. You attract that which you seek.

When thinking of something positive and then it happens, you made it happen. Again, just like your scientists who talk about your experiment's being affected by those who conduct the experiment (The observer), this is why, as you are actually affecting the outcome, that is unless on a higher level something else is at play, which some call divine intervention.

Sometimes though, you will have negative influences, with that comes the experience for you to have love and compassion for the Lower Light too. No one can be left out as all is one.

Once you see God in all, you have love for all, compassion for all, with that comes gratitude for all and being thankful for all.

There are times when you will be tested, that's exactly what it is, a test, a test to see if you are ready for the next level, the next experience, the next stage in your journey, that's what it is. It's just up to you if you can handle the situation, the experience to go to the next stage.

When in the state of unconditional love, gratitude and compassion, the thoughts that once held you back from evolving, matter no more. All that once mattered in terms of petty things don't matter no more. What people think, do, and say, don't matter. Technology doesn't matter, the negative things that hold you back don't matter, as you are at a different vibration when coming from a place of love.

From free energy, to food and shelter for all, to everyone having all that they need, that is what happens when coming from a place of love as you are vibrating at a higher level of consciousness. At this state you are in service mode and so is all that vibrate with you.

You have all been in this state before, it depends on which level you want to go to at this time. At the lower states of higher consciousness, deterrence is still possible, along with jealousy and hierarchy, these are tests. What vibration are you ready for? You decide! When connected to your Source self, there is no judgement, it's up to you what you want to do with what's revealed to you each time with a higher level of consciousness.

Your paths are agreed upon by you and those you work with. The signs of this are there, which some would call coincidences. All is set up, just go with the flow, you are going through the motions.

Time and time again, many have come back here, whether because of the manipulation, or because they chose to on a higher level. Many have seen a glimpse of what you would call peace on Earth, though it is always lost due to losing the oneness. The Mayans, the Native Americans, The Australian Aboriginals, the Africans, the Japanese, the Chinese, the British, all cultures have not achieved what they seek, due to being divided, due to intention and searching outside of themselves for answers and happiness.

All cultures could have prevented themselves from being over taken by another culture, if they had the oneness, as when you have that, all against your will cannot manifest into your reality.

All cultures have had small groups or individuals achieve a higher vibration, though as a collective you have not for a very long time. Only when you have unity as a collective and understand Omnipresence and be it, will you achieve what you call peace on Earth again.

In time you will wake up more, and empower yourself more, only you can do it. Bit by bit you will start to see your journey for what it is and connect with the people you have planned to do so with on another level.

You will not only attract the people in line with you, you will also get all that you need, as that is what happens when doing what you are supposed to, as when coming from a place of love, that is what happens. The starting phase seems hard. It's like anything you start, it's the illusion of fear, of change, and of being out of your comfort zone that makes you feel like what you are trying to change, is too hard.

Due to what's in your genes from your ancestors experiences, your lineages experiences, and as through that you are being affected, you are here now reading this at this time as a reminder that you are the bravest and have decided to come here, you are the only ones that could handle the situation. As you have either done your walk here before, or have been given the program to handle here, you are the only spirits (Due to how evolved you are), that can make a change here by playing a part in Humanity, which in turn helps Humanity to help themselves.

From addiction, to attitudes, to all that is, all this is testing you and has been instilled in you from your ancestors. This is all being cleared up know!

What is meant by cleaning up your baggage, is not just your baggage from what you create here, it also is about cleaning up the baggage for those before you in your lineage and as a collective.

Since you are the bravest of them all, all of you here have chosen to clean up the baggage like never before, while the manipulation is trying to keep you down. Everything is being thrown at you to distract you from your mission and from reconnecting with Source, though you are getting through it.

From here and realising this like never before, you can create change like never fathomed before while in the Human body, having the Human experience.

For fun you have chosen the most deeply amazing, fruitful, rewarding, learning experience, not just for you as a cell of Source, rather for Source itself, which encompasses all. You are the bravest.

With positive thinking, you can do your work, you know this, nothing here is new, you already know all this, it's just you are being reminded due to the veil put over you by the vibration here, which is trying to keep you down, but you're here to bring the higher energies in.

From positive thinking, and by projecting that into your food and water, and in all that you do, all can be better in doing so.

You have seen this in your science, that geometry can be created by positive thinking, so imagine what it does to you when negative.

Negativity is just a state, and when aware of this you can change your state. First of all for this to change, you have to forgive yourself, realise that the only person affecting you is you. Forgive yourself, forgive others, don't let their feelings be responsible for how you feel, you are responsible for that.

Release all the old programing and go with what really matters, what you know is right. Now is the time for you to forgive yourself and others.

Wipe the slate clean and come from a place of love, a new place, a place where you create and affect your own reality, your experience. You are the one you have been waiting for, it starts with a thought.

Forgive yourself and have compassion and gratitude for your own God self, love yourself, from there you can manifest anything into your life.

28th of November 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 6

The God within

The veils between worlds are thin, and to go from one world to another, there are what you call portals and inter-planes. Even though the Masters know how to transcend space and time, as they know the true nature of non-locality, and the true nature of energy and Omnipresence, all use portals which take you to an inter-plane, and all inter-planes are actually the same place between each vibration.

Through some of these portals, you can go from place to place, to other Universes, and to the places where the Elohim and other Masters of Light vibrate.

The Solar System, and what you call the “Milky Way Galaxy”, was set up by Creator Beings, which are a cell of Source in service mode, some of you are these beings and during the Universes creation, some of you personally moved planets, stars, galaxies and even created them.

With this being said, there is an energy grid set up connecting Orion, Sirius and The Pleiades. The Orion Council of Light, the Elohim, and “The Council of the Whole", can be found in different vibrations just behind and above Alnitak (To those in the Southern Hemisphere), though you cannot perceive us there. In Sirius, we also exist just outside your frequency, between Sirius A and B, and in the Pleiades between Merope and Electra, we also exist. Factions of the Elohim and members of "The Council of the Whole" are in all these areas, and others throughout the Universe.

All Stars in each area of Orion, Sirius, the Pleiades, and all other places, are not what you perceive to be just stars, they are also portals. Each portal also has a gate keeper and I am the gate keeper of the star Merope in the Pleiades.

Metatron is the overseer of all the portals and all portals are connected. The portals that are not stars in Sirius, Orion and the Pleiades can only be seen and used by those that recognise them. These portals take you to other realms, Universes and beyond.

Only those who have the keys can find and use these portals. These keys can only be obtained by self-mastery and service mode. The keys cannot be given by another being. When you get to the state where the veil comes down due to you obtaining the keys of knowledge, you will know the location of the portals, as that is in the book of knowledge given to you when at a higher state of consciousness, along with many other things.

In a higher state of consciousness where these planes exists, only those in line with them can go there. Connecting to the God within is where all this starts, and ends.

Many of you look to Sirius, the Pleiades and Orion, this is why, you know about this on some level. You know the Elohim are in these places, the messengers and creators. You feel the love in these places and there is an energy grid that connects these places and effects everything around, within, and near these places. All is connected!

In Earth's history here on Earth, many of you have perceived some of the Feline Beings, Bird Beings, Mantis Beings, Reptilians, Nordics and Human looking Beings as your Gods, but the truth is you are all Gods.

Some Beings from these races and others were manipulated by the Lower Light, to act and play out and do the things they did, to help create hierarchy and structure for the Lower Light. They pretended to be Masters and Gods (Though all is a part of God), to help continue in this vibration, the control for the Lower Light.

You are God and can do anything, and you have taken on the hardest role, being Human. Since you are more spiritually advanced than most, you can handle the Human experience better than most.

The only reason now that you cannot go to the highest of realms is due to the level of consciousness you are at while in the body computer, you are here to help change that.

Even in what you perceive as being the matrix, is only a small part of the whole matrix, which only the ascended have witnessed (some of you have had a glimpse of this, and seen this when unbounded).

This is where all starts to unfold for all as a collective. All have access to it! When you truly know that no judgement exists, that the God within is where all is, and that you are loved unconditionally, then can you start to tap into all that is.

All of you have been led to this, and know all this. You are manipulators of space and time, you are remote viewers like nothing else can be, you are the ones the rest are watching and relying on. Because of your lessons, experiences, knowledge and abilities, because of the call that was made and because you responded and actually came here, you are the bravest and best suited to the experience of amnesia while in the Human body to play out the mission.

Your mission far exceeds this galaxy, this Universe, and the other Universe's, and is part of something so big that even we cannot perceive it in our state. What we do know is that what's happening is on a mass scale like never seen before. What's happening cannot fully be understood yet due to us ourselves trying to understand the greater intelligence that encompasses not only your Universe, but other Universe's. Even in the other realms we are still learning to.

You can gain the keys of knowledge through yourself though, your own God self. You know this, it's just we are reminding you.

As they try and divert you from your true teachings, the Lower Light is trying to put distractions in your way with false prophets and misinformation. The funny thing about this is this is agreed upon by Source from how we understand the true nature of reality, but it is a self-mastery exercise with how you react.

Even those who are playing out the Lower Light's agenda's in your realm on Earth, believe the story's on why they do what they do, told to them by the Masters of the Lower Light, deep down they know what's going on just like you, it's just at this time their body computer is in the mind and not connected to their heart, which in turn means they are not connected to the God within at this time.

Instead of their intent coming from the Heart, their intent is coming from their mind, they are being guided by their mind chatter.

Also due to the vibration of most here and due to being in the mind, fear, greed and what others think is how many run their experience. When coming from the Heart you do not do this.

What people sometimes think of as mind chatter, is where information comes from, where Guides connect, the higher self-connects, and other Beings connect, as they connect in your mind which you perceive to be your thought, or thoughts. Just be aware though, as the Lower Light can do this to you to.

Go by how loving and in service mode the thoughts are, that's how you can tell the Beings intent.

If you take the time out to try and clear you're mind, you can connect with your Guides by noticing your thoughts. Before doing so, tell anything of a self-serving nature, that it is not welcome, and that anything coming from a place of service mode is. This can block the Lower Light and connect you to your Guides on an Astral and sometimes, body computer level.

Most say they can't meditate because they can't clear their mind, the truth of the matter is a lot of the time you don't have to. Take notice of your thoughts instead. In doing so you can astral travel, remote view and go anywhere, and with this intent, another consciousness can connect and send and download information to you, or appear astrally or in the physical and communicate with you.

Even old friends and family from the Star Nations, and other Beings or other facets of yourself can connect with you. They recognise your Soul signature and intention, it can be picked up like seeing a blinding light due to their connection to you.

How this information comes through is through thought. You think it's your thoughts but it is not sometimes when receiving information. When this happens it is your higher self, or the Guides that are other facets of you, or your family and friends from other planes of existence that you are interacting with.

You may think you reincarnate, you do not. All your lives are being experienced by a different facet of your higher self (Which is a cell of Source) all at once. All is a part of God, connect with the God within.

At this time, many coming into your life, or appearing mysteriously, are those you are connected with on other planes. Some you work with nightly in other planes, then you come back here and work together in many different ways. Some call these Beings Starseeds, the space family, your family, and in a way it is, though all is one, you are all catching up.

In 2010 a lot was activated as the waves of Beings that came here who were lying dormant, woke up slowly. From there up to 2012, the energy built up enough in this plane to where a larger portion of the collective on your plane woke up in some way and continue to do so at a fast rate today.

You may have noticed that since 2012, what you perceive as the common man, now can see more than ever the corruption from the government. That a lot of those who pretended to be in service mode in high government and corporate positions, and even what you call celebrities, are not what they seem.

This happened and is happening, due to the new energies which are helping to start and wake people up, and because those who are in self-service mode were, and are not, coming from their own hearts, and because of that the Lower Light was working through them, as the Lower Light used and are using all outlets from government, to media, to big pharma to celebrities, as an example of what they wanted the masses to act and behave like, so all could contribute to their energy source, which they so dearly need to continue on, which is holding everyone back from evolving.

Since then and now onwards, more will wake up, and the baggage of the collective here will come out and be played out. It needs to for the healing of not just the Earth and Humanity, but for the Universe and beyond.

How all this will unfold and go in a new direction is quick. All this is already in play and is happening and more has happen than most think, it is working.

Some who have been trapped here for a long time have split their spirit up, as they have broken away from the manipulation that they were once held back by, and have now gone to the New Earth, which should have happened long ago, and has happened everywhere else in a way, as elsewhere did not have the manipulation like here.

With that said, some have to stay here, as you have to hold the energy here until all stabilizes, then you can pass over. Even then some of you will stay as you will be the teachers and Guides for those left here, who are not ready to evolve at this time. Who evolve and does not, does not matter so much, as there is no right or wrong way to evolve.

Many have spoken of the New Earth and expected this to happen in 2012. It's already happened and is continuing to happen.

Most of the ground work has been done. Now is the time to consciously evolve and tap back into a higher level of consciousness.

To do so and what is common across all cultures and races not just on Earth, but throughout all planes, is that we can all connect with the God within. This is where it all starts. It all starts with you and is up to you.

29th of November 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 7

Create your own reality

Now more than ever, is create your own reality time. What we mean by this is, and who this is up to, when creating your own reality, is you. The world you want, the life you want, the people you surround yourself with, is all up to you. It's up to nobody else and nothing is out of reach when coming from a place of love with pure intent.

With the new energies coming through, there is no chance for the old ways and baggage to go on, due to the new vibrations not allowing for the old ways to exist. This is just the way it is. Even though some stay and some go, both places hold a higher vibration.

With the new energies, all that has been withheld will be known. The people will see all for what it is, and this started before 2010, and in 2012 it started to set in, and today it continues.

Many protest and sign your forms, though these things don't manifest the real change, they are cosmetic in nature and are what the Lower Light created in your realm, as the illusion for you to think that you are making change. The real change starts within, from there you can create any reality you want. Practicing love, kindness, compassion, affirmations, prayer and meditation, will help in creating your realities, as in these states, and with these acts, you can heighten your vibration which helps you to connect to your own God self.

Doing so will get you with the new program, which is also an illusion. All is an illusion, it's up to you the program you have. All programs affect other programs, and the collective.

The old ways cannot exist with the new energies, so be prepared for all issues to come up and to be dealt with. Some will have much pain in doing so, though recognise that it takes you to the next level.

On another level, "The Council of the Whole" (Which encompasses all of the Councils), are working with you, they are assisting you in your awakening to "Who you really are".

Though there are Light Workers, Angels, Ascended Masters and Councils, Gods many mansions is not limited to the number it can take as it is unbounded. No stone goes unturned, all is loved and accepted by Source.

The "Council of Nine" at this time is helping with the programing and are helping to adjust the new energies. They are monitoring the changes that have and are occurring, and will continue to do so. Know you are not alone on any level.

With this being realized, know that we are in a warzone in this Solar System, and Humanity is in the middle of it.

As the new energies come in and continue to do so, and with being as near as you get to galactic plane (Which just happened 2012), the effects are still taking place and the Lower Light is feeling it too. With this comes resistance!

Those being over shadowed by the Lower Light, going back thousands of years to Atlantis, Lemuria and before, knew the power in symbolism, knowledge, astrology, energy, and in time made a plan to keep all this knowledge from the masses, and only for the select few that were to be the chess pieces that they over shadow in this realm, that assist them in keeping power and having control.

They have taken ancient symbols and manipulated them, and their energies, to contribute to their way, this is being recognised by many now.

As we are going through the pivotal point of the change and upgrade of not only Humanity but the Universe, the Lower Light is pulling every trick and weapon out, as they are losing their grip on control and power, as they realise their ways. They are breaking up into factions. Take notice of the energies in the coming times.

They do rituals and sacrifices on certain dates, and these dates are known, and are too many to mention here. When they do these rituals and sacrifices, they are on dates and times when the energies on a galactic and inter-dimensional level are strong, they manipulate them for the outcome they want. Knowing that Humans are multidimensional Beings, they know how energies can contribute in a multidimensional way from Humans to their agenda through rituals.

When certain events unfold, take notice of the dates, they correlate with many Jewish, Christian and Muslim Holy days. The true stories to these days have been manipulated and changed from their true meanings, which has to do with energy.

Events like New Year's and Christmas are part of this! All who celebrate these events contribute giving energy to the Lower Light. Due to a large amount of the population's belief system and them not knowing the real meaning behind these dates, they go with the flow as sheep and contribute their energy to the Lower Light.

Knowing all this, don't let it be where your focus lies, just beware of all this, as you can see the significance of why things are done in the way they are, due to all things being manipulated. You can change that, as all is a projection of our reality. Once you know this, you can manipulate it.

Critical mass is where a lot of the change lies, though on a body computer 3D level, and with groups of people with the same intent, many together can have way more of an effect in this realm at this time with these energies than on an individual level, though if confident, one person, one Being, can do just as much as a group of Beings once in tune with Source.

Many signs have been left and are in front of you. They are sign posts for you, your tools. You have all the tools you need, mainly most of you are unaware of them though.

Similar to a military operation, you are here on a mission. The mission is to help (Not to take over, like military operations on Earth's) the Human race, the Lower Light, Source, the other Source's, and the overall Super God Source, to evolve, as all have been held back by what's going on here.

As you had to come down the planes to this physical reality and reincarnate, you could not bring with you fully knowing your knowledge and past life experiences, due to the body computer, and the way the body computer brain works at this time. Long ago, we left signs in place, mainly in symbolism and geometry, at what you perceive as ancient sites.

Sacred geometry has a lot of information for you. Some of you will understand it, some will not. On a subconscious level, and on an energetic level, it affects you all.

The Lower Light long ago understood and knew what it was up against, as it once was part of the Creator Beings (The Elohim).

Long ago the Lower Light knew that the advancement in technologies, media and all that is now, would be where it is today, and has used, ran and manipulated all to their agenda, which is why and how the operation on our end had to happen in terms of coming here at this time, to help all realise the illusion of karma on a spiritual level, and to help with the process of gaining knowledge and having experiences in all places, not just here.

Slowly, you are all being led to your signs! Look for synchronicities, notice your thoughts, as this is how consciousness and those you work with in the other realms are guiding and helping you, which you asked them to do in the first place on a higher level.

For some, you will be guided to crystals to start off with, and will continue to use selected ones. These can help activate you, and amplify what you have to do. Some have many great powers, though remember that your own God Self is where the true power lies. Crystals are just to help assist you like your Guides do. That is all!

Sounds and frequencies can help to, all of you have a gift and you all use them on a conscious level occasionally as healers, using all different type of methods. Though only some things work on each of you when you get a healing done by your fellow Star Brothers and Sisters, as some of you have created and got blockages or implants from self-serving beings.

Try different things and go with what works. The blockages are part of the program and sometimes have been put in place for a reason as well. With meeting, networking and healing one another, you strengthen the energy grid also. All who you have come across, and all you have done, has been pre-planned on another level. In the true profound nature of reality, all has already happen. The outcome is amazing!

From Consciousness being condensed manifesting light, and then that condensed again making sound, and that making physical matter once condensed further, all is consciousness, and from that place with love and good intent and when coming from the heart, anything is possible.

At this time you may be asking “Why is everything the way it is then? Well that is because just like relationships, it takes two to tango as your people say! Yes all is one, but when leaving Source, and as all is a cell of Source, all still has an individual aspect about itself, though all is a part of the whole. As all has had different experiences, that's why we are all different, because of our programing. On top of that, all this has never been done before.

It's time to connect within, here all can change. The answers are all there, with the help of those behind the scenes. Now more than ever, you are noticing changes in your body, from flutters in your cells, to ringing in the ears.

Some of it is us communicating with you, some of it is commandments from your higher self to your body computer. The commandments change your makeup, to get you ready as it changes vibration slowly, as it has to be done slowly, in order for the body computer not be damaged. These are some of the shift symptoms. All of you are going through them. Light codes are being activated also. Everything is a code, and everything being done is an activation. From light code activations, to physical activations with your makeup, many activations are happening.

Also some of you have energetic implants which can amplify, activate and assist you through these changes. Some of them help you with connecting to the spiritual realm. Some of you have thought you may have one or more of these, and you do. Trust what comes to mind first on all this, as that is where the true answer lies.

Your light body is being activated, and in turn your Human body is being activated and going back to what it is originally, it's true nature. You can do anything from levitation to teleportation, to telepathy. You have many abilities which many Beings in their physical state cannot do to the extent you can, due to you having many traits from all the advanced Beings from many vibrations. You encompass traits of all the highly advanced Beings, including the Elohim.

You are truly amazing and wonderful, but don't get carried away as all is equal, as all is a cell of God.

Spend time connecting and talking to not just your physical body, also talk and connect with your light body. Walk bare foot on the Earth and do Earthing/ Grounding, and connect with the Earth. Connect with the Sun, the planets, the Galaxy, the Universe and beyond, and do it through thought, take notice of your feelings and what comes to mind when doing so.

Connect with you, your complete self, not your higher self, the real you, the "All that is" part. From there you can bring that and manifest it here.

30th of November 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 8

Some stay, some go

All is about evolving, having experiences and learning from lessons, within Source. It's your own illusion and it is up to you how you evolve and when you go on to the next experience, though they are all happen at the same time.

Humans think linear, that was instilled in you through the manipulation. The truth is you can be de-programed and make a new program, where time is non-existent. With time you age, and yes there are cycles of the planets and so on, though it is all an illusion, along with all that is.

The illusions are programs, it's up to you what program you decide on. When you move on is up to you! There is no right or wrong way to go about your experiences and journey within Source, as it has to be completely different from everyone else, or else it would not be worth doing, as why we went out within our self (Source) in the first place, was to gain knowledge and to have experiences in as many ways as possible, to gain knowledge.

To be effective at this time for your mission here, and in prime condition to do what you are here to do, there are many things you need a balance of.

With nutrition, watch what you put into your bodies. Fruit and vegetables are the best source of diet, due to them being natural and having high vibration. Occasionally a bit of chicken or seafood is ok, and a steak on occasions can help with grounding, though if you can, stay off meat. Until you are ready to go raw, which is the ultimate goal, do what you can and don't forget to drink plenty of water.

Placing your hands over your water before drinking it and giving the water love and blasting it with a golden white light by thought, is also a way you can energise the water which will also wear off on your body computer. You can do this method with your food as well. Health is very important. If you are healthy, being at the top of your game is where you will be.

Along with good food, exercise is important. Whether walking or working out, it's up to you. Keeping the body active is best for your mind, body and spirit, as sometimes when exercising you will have thoughts come in as you day dream and go into another state of consciousness, due to you going into a trance like state sometimes.

Don't overdo it, do about 20 minutes exercise, at least 6 days a week, and keep it constant. Don't make it a chore, do something you actually enjoy doing, whether weights or hiking, whatever it is.

These tips and tools are to help you be at your best, which in turn helps you to be even more effective for what you came here to do in a positive and constructive manner. With health, nutrition and exercise, comes work.

What we mean is not work, as in your five sense Earth world reality way, rather we mean doing your life's mission, what makes you feel good, when being in service to others here.

The more of you that do this, the more yourself and others will realise how doing what you are good at, pays off in many ways. You are in service mode when you do so.

You all have something that you are good at and if you step away from "I can't", and have that “Yes I can” attitude, along with it will come all that you need to get by.

The other planes where you have been before, they operate in a similar way, as in all the places that are a part of the Star Nations, all do what they are natural good at and want to do. They get education and learn about the subjects that they are good at and practice both the theory and practical. Also if one is passionate about something but have not done it before, they are encouraged in the other planes to learn and be educated on whatever it is they are passionate about, to see if they can do what they are passionate about in whatever format.

Learning is very important in all lives, as this is part of what you are meant to do. Always be willing to evolve and not be stuck in the same place, as you will stunt, limit and slow down your development. These are things you already know, due to coming from Source, then to the higher planes, to here, we are just reminding you of these things.

Money and finances are the main things that stops people from evolving and doing what they have chosen to do on a higher level, while on Earth, along with the “What if” attitude. The “What if” attitude, was installed into the program here by the Lower Light long ago to keep you trapped and to limit your progress, as it served, and still does serve, their purpose (keeping you down), due to you being their energy source. The truth is all is an illusion.

At the end of the day, bills will be payed and what you need will be provided, along with food, clothing, and a roof over your head. If not, what will happen is a chain of events to make you take new actions and a new direction (Which is the path you are meant to be on, which you have agreed upon). You will always have what you need.

As long as you are positive and know this, even though at times the Human mind will make you worry, know that your Guides, Angels, the Beings that you work with from beyond, are there to help you, to calm you, to guide you. All you have to do is ask for their help, and take notice of your thoughts and synchronicities. In time with them guiding you, and showing you the path and the directions to take (Which again you have pre-planned and asked for), you will do what you are meant to.

Know you will be looked after either way, that things will be easier when doing what you are meant to. Whether it's healing, writing, educating, teaching, or doing a service as whatever, as long as you love and have a passion for what you are doing and as long as it's not hurting anyone, you are doing what you are meant to. Even if you don't know what you are meant to be doing, ask your Guides and the Universe with intent, and soon the path will open.

With all this needs to come a balance. A balance of time with friends and time with your family. You also need a balance of time with your partner or partners (As in the Pleiades, Orion and elsewhere, jealousy does not exist like it does here and acceptance of many partners is normal, unless married, as types of marriages exist elsewhere to, just like having children is agreed upon, it is self-regulated in order for it to be wanted on both sides and under the right circumstances for the civilization). There needs to be a balance in all that you do. Also having hobbies and time alone is needed.

Most people don't like time to themselves, as it makes them think, though it is needed to evolve. This is where contact on many levels can happen consciously by thought, even though everyone has had contact on some level, even if not aware of it.

Mainly women in your world tend to have it harder than men, as they spend time looking after everyone else, when everyone should be helping each other.

Women deserve the right to have time by themselves and time with friends, family, social time and hobbies, just like everyone else. This is more important than ever during the early years when they have children, so when the children are older and leave home, they can continue to be on their journey and be Guides to the young ones, even though the young ones are really the Guides to their elders.

With many of you meeting up having children here (The Starseeds), it creates a new energy for the higher Beings than yourself to come in, though all is one.

Some of you will get married, some will not. In regards to a divorce, it should be understood that in the Star Nations, there is an equivalent to a separation between a man and women when once married, though it is not like on Earth. On Earth there can be fights, arguments and more, elsewhere though, it is understood that at times relationships and people were once meant to be together, to bring certain Beings into the world, or do a certain project together.

Sometimes people have to move on and continue on their journey, nothing is a waste of time, it's all part of the journey. On Earth jealousy, control, harm, emotional and violent abuse is accepted, which was all set up by the Lower Light. That energy goes into their grid. Be like the Star Nations in relationships and accepting your partner's ex-spouses if they have one and their decisions, be happy and move on, and if kids are involved, have their highest good as your goal, set boundaries and do not be jealous. Be an example and Guides to each other, this is how it is elsewhere.

Coming from a new vibration, the things that once mattered will matter no more, as you are coming at it from a higher level of consciousness. In many places people have many lovers, not for the sake of it, rather because of a spiritual and sacred connection. Having many partners is not a right, it's a privilege, and like everything else, cannot be abused.

At this time many Twin Flames are connecting up as well, and after a certain point, nothing can break them apart, except for themselves, as when the energies come together again, a lot of issues for people on both sides come up. This needs to happen to create new energies and to get with the new program.

At the moment more than ever, the Beings you have worked with before, or old flames you have been with before, or are working with on another planes at the same time, are connecting up. You are also connecting up with your family from beyond. Many around at this time you know and have been and worked with before, there is nothing like connecting and being with your Twin Flame though. Many Twin Flames are connecting, and when this happens, you become whole and become one and ascend together, while bringing in line the male and female energies.

With all this, to evolve and be productive on this mission, what is needed is quiet time and meditation time. Whether it's doing deep meditations, or just sitting, walking or standing barefoot on the ground for 5 minutes a day, away from society, phones, computers and people, while trying not think, take what quiet time you can. When doing this, take notice of your thoughts, as your Guides from beyond can come through, even though they are always there.

With this all said, also a balance of having fun is needed. From this vibration, many Beings from beyond in line with you can come through, just from you having fun, with the intent to connect, so take notice.

Also with your friends, family, and acquaintances, not all these people are always meant to be in your life forever. Some are there to teach you lessons, and sometimes these lessons are about you having self-respect, in a way where if those around you (Family or not), make you feel bad in a way where it's not productive, like bringing up your old baggage, along with trying to fit you into their programme, move on, as its their problem.

Why be with people that make you feel bad. Like with Yeshua (Jesus), do you really think he wants to come back and interact with those praising him and thinking of him as still on a cross with negative feelings, or do you think he would like to be around people who are fun to be around and see him as an equal? Those of you who have interacted with him know he has a loving, blissful and happy personality and energy. Happiness in each life is all everyone wants and it starts with a thought, and by connecting with the God within. You can manifest happiness into your reality.

Enjoy your holidays when you get the chance, and work hard within reason when you can, have a balance in all you do. Have your goals, vision boards, and connect and go where the signs and synchronicities lead you. Understand where you go on your mission here at this time you are meant to. Many will stay to teach the rest and get them back up to speed, and some of you will go to be Guides on the New Earth (which has already happened). Also some will go home and some will ascend. All will go where they are supposed to including you.

1st of December 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Chapter 9

The next phase and the new beginning

The next phase for you now, is the new beginning. All that you do is your life purpose, so you don't need to know it, as you are doing it.

Even if you feel like you are not doing what you are meant to, you are still doing it, as your actions are leading you to your purpose in this realm, nothing goes to waste. In this life's mission, in this facet of your Over Soul, you are doing what you are meant to.

Learning, gaining knowledge, and having experiences, is the true blue print and foundation of why we lose ourselves, only to find ourselves again, within Source.

Just know that the way to manipulate and to achieve anything, is by a thought. As long as your thoughts are in service mode, and your intentions are pure, there is no repercussion to worry about in whatever realm, as you are unconditionally loved by Source, there is no judgement.

With the next phase and realization of all you have read, it is now up to you how you proceed from here. All of you reading this are being changed on some level. How you will be change, will come into play is in many ways. Remember nothing goes unnoticed, that nobody is more important than anyone else, as all are equal.

For all this to pull off (Which it already has), all have to play their part, and do what they do, and what each person does is different. One thing you must also take notice of is the kids, notice the kids.

At this time as the new energies come in, so are other spirits in the reincarnation process (Though reincarnation as we have mentioned does not exist). The new spirits resonate well with the new energies, as they are already adapted to it, as they are from the higher planes.

At this time many doctors and specialists are saying how kids have "Attention Deficient Disorder", "Asperger's" or "Autism", among many other things. The truth of the matter is that they are using a different part of their brain. They need stuff to do, as they are very active and as they are reacting differently to the body computer due to having a high vibration.

As many of you know, you are not from here, and how things are done here are slow, that is part of the self-mastery lesson. Though the kids have a bigger lesson to learn than most (As they are from the higher planes, and will find it harder, though they can do it, due to them being more evolved than most), they are really our teachers.

Take notice of the kids, they are developing much more quickly than those of you who are adults. They are solving problems, learning and see things for what they are, a lot quicker than the older ones. The main change that is going to happen here is from the kids.

Many Starseeds don't want kids, though that is where the change starts and where the energy and the change mainly comes from, due to them having high energy. These days the kids need to be tested and given stuff to pull apart and put together, things that are challenging, as not enough these days is challenging enough for them, due to their high intelligence.

The kids is where the real change will come from. Learn from the kids, they are actually your teachers, not the other way around.

On every level you will learn! You will learn about yourself, your emotions, your happiness, that all is a projection of you, the kids will show you this. Also they will show you other ways to do and think of things, while bringing in the vibe and vibration of happiness.

More than ever now, the kids are connected to their home star, their Guides, and their many facets, and they are bring their many traits through to help here. They know we are not alone and have a lot more conscious memory of past lives (Though they are all happening at once).

Also the kids have more conscious memories of their experiences while here in the Human body, as they can handle more. It takes a lot to startle them, due to their high vibration.

Ask yourself, "What can I do for the new kids?" This is where the change lies, along with working on yourself.

For those who have been stuck here for thousands of years, your time to move on is now if you want to, it is up to you. The opportunity awaits now if you want it.

There is no right or wrong way to go about it. What you are ready for, you know. The New Earth is already in existence with many there to assist and help you to evolve, and go to the next step in your Soul evolution if you can take it.

As you evolve, those who have been stuck here and in this plane and others, throughout the Universe and beyond, will also have the opportunity to evolve and move on to their next experience and lesson, as the road bump that was once stopping them exists no more. What's happening is so big and beautiful.

From these messages here, and what to mainly take from it, is to know that you are loved, no matter what, you are special, all is, and only you can judge yourself, no one else can in the bigger scheme of things. You are God, a cell of God, a part of the collective, which is really one.

Take the time more than ever now to work on yourself. Give yourself the best of you and that will mean you are giving the best of you not only to those around you in this realm, but in all realms and to Source itself and beyond, as you are part of a bigger collective than you think.

The truth is that your masters, Saints and Sages are real, and they are no better than you, they just happen to be the messengers that have come down the dimensions to this physical plane, to help you remember who you are (If you want to remember). What they can do, you can do, as all is one. You are a Creator Being as well, you all are.

Now some of the Beings you interact with transport themselves in what you call UFOs, Flying Saucers, Disc's, Cigar shaped crafts or Orbs, but with the Creator Beings, the Ascended Beings, and the like, they transport themselves in what you call Merkabah's. They travel around in their own light body, and they are able to do anything at a thoughts notice.

All of you can do this and have and are doing it on another level at this time. As some of you are not connected to another facet of yourself consciously, you are unaware of this. Some of you are connected to other parts of yourself though, and have a feeling you are a lot more. Only a small majority of you know your true capability.

Who you are, to being all that is, to knowing where you are at, to what you want to be, is all up to you, and it's up to you how many facets of yourself you want to become masters, as all of them can be if you seek that. Intent and service is where it all starts.

Many of you want to know where you're from. The truth is that you are from Source, you are God, a cell of God, and you have vibrated through many programs within God, to experience all that is and you have been many things throughout your journey.

Take notice of the stars you look at, you have been there and are there. Not only have you had one life in these places, you have had many. You all have been many, many, many different types of Beings. The part of yourself you are tapping into now is this life, is the life of all lives, and with it comes the experience of all experiences, which is the Human experience, and what an experience it is, what an illusion it is, just like everything else except for Source itself, or is that an illusion too?

Many who walk amongst you at this time are not what they seem, your reality is not what it seems. Most think they are not in control, they are. The more that take control, the easier it will become for others to change their reality and take control.

At this time many of your Guides walk amongst you. Some are Extra-terrestrials, some are Masters and Angels, whatever you would like to call them. The fact is that they are among you and have been with you a long time and you have all interacted with them at one time and are interacting with them now. To see one right now, go and look in the mirror, as you will see one. It's you, you are one of them.

First to realise this, you must love yourself. Forgive yourself for all wrong you think you have done. Forgive yourself for perceiving separation, the illusion of separation, forgive yourself for judging others.

Forgive others for what wrong they have done to you (Which is also an illusion), and see the lessons. Learn from the lessons and the realisation of what we are telling you, which is "You are the master of your own destiny".

Gods lose themselves and find themselves, that's what all the cells of Source do, it's a cycle. Now is the time for you to find yourself, to fully wake up and take your power back. Realise you are the one in power and why you are here.

You're here to help, not only others, but yourself on your journey, which is what happens when helping others.

From now on, take notice of your thoughts, ask in your mind where they are coming from, ask who sees through your eyes at times, and you will notice you are connected outside of your body, going to your higher Over Soul, and then again you go out from that, to a pure God Consciousness state, and from there you can go to a Super God Consciousness state, which is what all is connected to within and outside of the Universe.

Heal yourself now, set the intent, forgive yourself and connect with yourself, connect back to yourself like never before. Get rid of the old programs, beliefs, and get with the new program, your program.

At times when in need of help, ask your Guides, Saint's, Sages, Masters and your higher self for help. Go where the signs lead you. From synchronicities, to numbers, to people bringing up the same subject, take notice as these are signs. Notice the thoughts that come to mind when these things happen. Go with the flow, know all will be taken care of, and that you will be taken care of.

More than ever now, you are going to connect with like-minded people, and that's because you have agreed to this. It is time to take your position in this war, which is the war to heal and awaken the human race.

Those you come across are your Guides and you are theirs. You all have to support each other. Some of them will fade away, and new ones will come into the picture, still on some level though, you will all be, and are, working together. You are all helping each other along and teaching each other lessons.

Also as a collective and in small groups through meditation and prayer, you are all setting the bar for oneness, and how you can affect your reality not just on Earth, or on a universal level, but beyond, in other Universe's as well. It all starts with the spark of a flame, your flame, your cell of Source, and connecting with that, it all starts with you.

2nd of December 2014

Shi-Ji via Peter Maxwell Slattery

Final note

Make of this what you may, and interpret this as you may.

Cheers, love and light.

Peter Maxwell Slattery

Other books by author Peter Maxwell Slattery

The History of Man – An alien civilization

My Awakening

My Awakening Part 2

Operation Starseed

Breaking Free

The E.T Contact Experience: CE-5 Handbook

About the author

Peter Maxwell Slattery is an experimenter, author, speaker, meditation teacher and he does energy and healing practices. His experiences started at an early age and continue to this day and he has witnesses to events and an overwhelming amount of photographic and video evidence of UFOs, Orbs and apparitions.

From his experiences with Extra-terrestrials, to Inter-dimensional Beings, Spirits and Source, all has led Pete to dedicate himself to the healing of the Earth and to the awakening of the Human race by helping people find their own connection to Source, and their own inter-dimensional self. He also helps people to initiate contact themselves, on whatever level they are ready to do so individually and in a group, through love, good intent and meditation.

Pete has appeared on Channel 7's "Prime News" and "Sunrise" (which is one of Australia's national morning news T.V shows), and he has also been on shows such as "The Unexplained with Howard Hughes" and "Podcast UFO".

For more go to petermaxwellslattery.com

Follow Pete on Facebook, YouTube and Twitter